OPENS NEW FIGHT FOR MELLON

Washington, April 14.—The administration is preparing to renew its counter-offensive against the fight on Secretary Andrew W. Mellon in the Senate.

President Coolidge conferred today with Mr. Mellon and Senator James E. Watson of Indiana, chairman of the special committee which is investigating the Internal Revenue Bureau.

It was indicated Senator Watson would make another speech in the Senate, probably tomorrow, setting forth in greater detail the argument for discontinuance of the inquiry.

Other Senators on the Republican side are expected to join in the counter-attack in support of President Coolidge's charge that the revenue bureau committee has not kept within its proper rights and his warning that the time has come for the Senate to "return to a government under and in accordance with the usual forms of the law of the [illegible]

Whether Secretary Mellon will take any further direct part in the argument remains to be developed.

PINCHOT HOPES.

In renewing his request for action of his resolution to end the Revenue Bureau investigation, Senator Watson will reply to the statement of Governor Pinchot of Pennsylvania, who suggested employment by the committee of Francis J. Heney.

Senator Watson takes the position that nothing is to be gained by the inquiry proposed by Governor Pinchot into prohibition enforcement under Secretary Mellon.

Meanwhile, one of the strangest political battles ever fought is going on under the surface of the clash between Coolidge and the Senate would-be investigators.

First and foremost is the ambition of Governor Pinchot to ride into the presidency on the prohibition issue.

ROW DIED DOWN.

Governor Pinchot attempted to put himself in the strategic position of being the dry candidate for the Republican nomination for the presidency many months ago.

He got a controversy with Secretary of the Treasury Mellon start-

SAY WIDOW HAD WINE CELLAR

Mrs. Alice F. Wallace, millionaire New Hampshire widow, maintained a wine cellar in her Rochester, N. H. home, where Harry S. Bradstreet, Boston broker, was a frequent visitor.

This was testified today in Superior Court, through deposition by Elmer W. Akers, chauffeur for Mrs. Wallace, during trial of the $250,000 alienation suit brought against her by Mrs. Laura Bradstreet of Bay State road, wife of the broker.

Akers also deposed to having driven Mrs. Wallace and Bradstreet on trips through the Adirondacks into Canada, to Newport and Providence and to the Belmont Country Club.

The deposition was read by William A. Morse, counsel for the millionaire widow.

"While Mrs. Wallace was away at her Winter home, did Mr. Bradstreet ever ask for any whiskey or gin?" one question in the deposition

5 HOLDUP MEN GET RUM TRUCK

An automobile chase through three cities, in which revolver shots were fired, led to the arrest of two men today.

George Campbell of No. [illegible] Monument street, Charlestown, who had driven from [illegible] with a truckload of alcohol valued at $940, was intercepted at Charlestown by five men in a touring car.

"We know what you've got," they told Campbell. An argument followed, and the men said "we want $500." Campbell refused to pay and two of the men seized Campbell's truck and started off toward Somerville.

Campbell summoned Patrolmen Michael Regan and Alfred Gersony. Commandeering another truck, they started off after Campbell's truck. Through Sullivan square, down Broadway, Somerville, and across the Fellsway the chase led, with policemen firing at the truck.

SON JOINS FIGHT ON THAW

Philadelphia, April 14.—Russel William Thaw, claimed to be the thirteen-year-old son of Harry K. Thaw, today was allowed to intervene through a guardian, in the Thaw insanity proceedings which began in Common Pleas Court today.

Judge John Monaghan in permitting the boy to intervene announced he could do so, not through his mother, but through a guardian. Thomas E. Cogan of counsel for Evelyn Nesbit was then appointed guardian during the proceedings.

Philadelphia, April 14 (I.N.S.)—After over fourteen years of life in insane asylums, broken by a two year interlude of liberty and periodical "vacations" at the home of his aged mother, Harry K. Thaw, fifty-three-year-old millionaire slayer of Stanford White, famous architect, today began his second fight for freedom before a judge and jury in common pleas court.

Thaw contends he has recovered his sanity. Five specialists chosen by his counsel are expected to testify that he is fitted for release from the Pennsylvania Hospital for mental and nervous diseases and qualified to assume control of his estate, estimated at from [illegible] to [illegible].

Every effort will be made to avoid sensationalism, according to former Judge John R. Patterson, who with two assistants will [illegible] Thaw's case.

FIGHT OVER BOY

Nevertheless dramatic developments are expected if Evelyn Nesbit, Thaw's divorced wife, takes the stand.

Her petition, in which she arrays herself on the side of the opposition, is not expected to be opposed by Attorney Patterson.

If she takes the stand there is a likelihood that the legitimacy of her son Russell William Thaw will be attacked. She petitions permission to take part in the trial in his behalf.

According to counsel for Thaw, it was proved in 1915 at the divorce trial that the boy was born in Berlin, Germany, in 1910, while Thaw was confined to Matteawan Asylum for the Criminal Insane.

THAW TO TESTIFY

Thaw will take the stand in his own behalf. It is believed he will retell the affair on Madison Square Roof Garden, New York, in June

PRISONER THREATENS OFFICER

One of two prisoners held in the grip of Patrolman Walter T. Hallett at Washington and Lenox streets, Roxbury, early today, was shot down by the policeman after the prisoner had broken away and drawn a revolver.

The escaped prisoners picked the wrong policeman to draw a gun on. Hallett, who is attached to the Roxbury Crossing station, is the police department crack shot.

The patrolman, holding his other prisoner with his right hand, reached back with his left, flipped out his gun and, still with his left hand, fired, bringing the man down with a bullet in his leg.

The man lay there, with Hallett and the other prisoner beside him, until a milk wagon driver took him to the City Hospital.

The men gave their names as Nichol Christiani, thirty-four, of No. 21 East Lenox street, and Rocco Mosso, thirty-five, of No. 23 Kendall street, both of Roxbury.

Christiani, the wounded man, is charged with assault on the policeman and with carrying a loaded revolver.

Mosso, in whose pockets was found [illegible] and who wore a cartridge belt with thirty rounds, is charged with carrying a loaded revolver.

DRAWS GUN ON OFFICER

Patrolman Hallett saw the two men [illegible] Washington and Lenox streets. The patrolman questioned them. [illegible] sure they would remain for questioning, he gripped them, one in each hand.

Their answers were unsatisfactory and suddenly Christiani twisted out of the policeman's grasp, ran to the middle of Washington street and wheeled with a [illegible]-caliber revolver in his hand.

Before he could fire, Patrolman Hallett, using his left hand, had dropped him in the middle of the street. Then the policeman went over with the other prisoner until ed [illegible] about the [illegible] of prohibition enforcement and was going splendidly when suddenly other [illegible] developments [illegible] this particular row.

A [illegible] cause of the sudden death of interest was the disclosure that Senators Pepper and Reed of Pennsylvania were unwilling to allow the delegation of the Keystone State to go to the Convention and [illegible] Pinchot as a favorite son.

Then came [illegible] for Coolidge in the primaries until [illegible] Illinois and [illegible] it was made certain that there would be enough delegates for Coolidge to nominate him on the first ballot.

TO DISCREDIT MELLON

And last week came Pinchot's [illegible] commendation to the Senate committee investigating the Internal Revenue Bureau [illegible] Hendy.

Up to that point the committee had not [illegible] in attempting to discredit Mr. Mellon. The Secretary of the Treasury, who is a very rich man, had supplied the names of the corporations in which he held stock, and had gone out of his way to obtain permission from these corporations to give their tax returns.

These had demonstrated that the companies in which Mr. Mellon's money is invested had not received any better treatment at the hands of the tax [illegible] than had any other companies.

[illegible] something else again. No one is so unsophisticated as not to realize that the money made in violating the prohibition law has been stupendous in amount.

This is not the only view of the wets. It is freely charged every time a group of [illegible] get together. The chief difference between the two groups is in the prophecies for the future.

Governor Pinchot knows this, and so does Senator James E. Couzens, who has offered to pay Francis J. Heney out of his own pocket.

The general question of the strategy to be employed in the next phase of the battle was discussed at today's conference by the President, Secretary Mellon and Senator Watson.

Afterward Senator Watson said no definite conclusions were reached. He hastened to the Capitol to report the view of the President to the conference of Republican Senators which met prior to the convening of the Senate.

Should an agreement be reached by the Republicans to proceed with the immigration bill, Senator Watson indicated he would make no move to bring up his resolution today.

MAL'S ARREST IS DEMANDED BY COMMITTEE

Meet in Secret Session to Plan Contempt Proceedings of Daugherty's Brother

Washington, April 14 (I.N.S.).—A formal request upon the Senate to institute contempt proceedings against Mal S. Daugherty, brother of the former attorney general, was prepared today at a secret session of the Wheeler-Brookhart committee.

Public hearings were postponed until tomorrow while the committee deliberated action against Daugherty for his defiance of subpoena issued at Washington Courthouse, Ohio, and his refusal to produce records from the Midland National Bank there of which he is president.

The committee also considered the question of asking the Senate to order his immediate arrest and deliverance to the sergeant-at-arms' custody until the books are produced.

Senators Brookhart, chairman, and Wheeler, acting "prosecutor," whose activities at the Ohio town were halted by a temporary injunction, demanded that every possible step be taken to compel Daugherty to produce his bank's records.

They told the remaining members of the committee that evidence was volunteered by a special investigator who visited the bank that Harry M. Daugherty had made a deposit of $75,000 in the bank, and Jess W. Smith, his late chum, a deposit of $62,000.

The Senators maintained the two deposits should be thoroughly investigated and all records of the bank searched for further deposits by these two principals.

At the same time the special committee, headed by Senator Borah, prepared to open a "public trial" late this week to investigate an indictment returned against Senator Wheeler by a Federal grand jury in Montana.

"Is there a wine closet at Mrs. Warrace's Rochester home?" "Yes."

"Did you ever deliver any liquor of any kind to anyone while she was away in the South?"

Attorney ,Snow, who was representing Mrs. Wallace at taking of the deposition advised Akers not to answer on the ground that it might incriminate him with the Federal authorities, but th magistrate present, ocerruled the objection. Akers then answered in the negative.

"Who had the key to the wine cellar?" "I don't remember. I didn't have it."

"Was the wine closet locked while Mrs. Wallace was away?" "I don't remember."

"While Mrs. Wallace was away in the South did Mr. Bradstreet go to her Rochester home?" "I think so."

"How many times?" "Oh, several times."

"At any time that you saw him there, did you give him or show him liquor of any sort?" "I had no authority to deliver liquor."

a like fate when she set aside her glass to care for her baby, has been unable to furnish any clue as to how the poison got into the salts bottle.

Today Mrs. Bander gave the American a detailed account of the tragedy as she has told it to the police. According to her story both her drink and her husband's were poured by him.

THEN BABY CRIED.

"He brought the container into the kitchen, she said, and took out the paper bag and made up two glasses. He told me to drink mine and he walked around doing something, I don't know what. I noticed the white powder was not fully dissolved and I stirred it a little and put it to my lips. Just then my baby cried."

Mrs. Bander explained that the baby's bottle was then a half hour late. "I put down the glass to give him his bottle," she said. "When I came back my husband was draining his glass. Immediately he groaned and cried, 'I'm burning up inside.'"

Mrs. Bander said she thought her husband had taken sour salt by mistake. She said she had some she used in cooking and that it has a sickening taste.

"I helped him into the bathroom and poured cold water on his throat and chest. He drank all he could," said Mrs. Bander.

AGONY INTENSE.

"I screamed at the top of my voice and the two older children, Sidney and Nettie, jumped out of their beds and began to scream, too. My husband insisted on lying down. His agony was intense and he kept tearing his clothes and growing paler.

"Then he said 'Goodbye, my children,' and closed his eyes. Neighbors had rushed in during this time and had gone for doctors. None could be found and one neighbor got his automobile and they carried my husband to it and took him to the hospital. But he was already dead. It all happened in fifteen minutes."

Mrs. Bander said the only thing she can think of that might account for the poison is that it might be something used by the owners of the house in cleaning the floors before they were shellacked.

"My husband was so good," said Mrs. Bander. "He was happy and we were especially gay yesterday morning. He was singing. He enjoyed health and a good salary and had no worries."

AVIATRIX RISKS HER LIFE; IS ARRESTED

Paris, April 14.—To prove the possibility of a passenger being safely set down by a low flying airplane without using a special landing ground, Madame Germaine Granveaud, twenty-two, landed with a special parachute from a speeding plane as it was crossing the Invalides Esplanade in the presence of crowds there waiting for a last glimpse of the King and Queen of Rumania.

The aviatrix landed on the railroad property outside the Invalides terminal, narrowly missing a ducking in the Seine. She was promptly accosted by a policeman who gave her a summons to court for breaking the city's flying regulations.

JUDGE QUASHES 2 PRUDENTIAL INDICTMENTS

Declares Law Does Not Apply to Bank Officials; McNamee and Bailey Win

Indictments charging unlawful lending, investing, appropriating and conversion of funds of the closed Prudential Trust Company against John H. H. McNamee, the president, and William R. Bailey, former treasurer, were quashed today in Superior Court by Judge Sisk.

Judge Sisk declared that the law under which the indictments were returned does not apply to bank officials. In this ruling he agreed with John P. Feeney, counsel for McNamee, and James J. McCarthy, counsel for Bailey.

Max Mitchell was also indicted under this act, declared by Judge Sisk not to apply to bank officials.

Following the quashing, Assistant District Attorney Hill informed the court that another indictment is pending against McNamee, but the district attorney's office desires to make examination of facts involved before deciding if it will proceed to trial.

STAGE SET AGAIN FOR ANOTHER ACT IN GREAT THAW MELODRAMA

FIGHTS FOR FREEDOM AND SANITY

Menace of the Gumps Removed, Slayer Sees Himself at Last at Liberty

•Philadelphia, April 14.—The urtain rose today on another ct in the greatest melodrama of he American newspaper stage. Harry Kendall Thaw is asking o be set free, to be permitted o go forth into the world again s a new man, sane and re-enerate.

Eighteen years ago the same Harry haw, having just slain Stanford Vhite, one of the foremost archiects of the age, was more than willng that he should be classed as inane. He went to extremes—even in is lunacy—to make it demonstrale that he was not merely crazy but orally pervert.

All of this, till a jury acquitted im on the ground of his insanity nd a judge decided Thaw should be ept locked up in a hospital for the riminal insane. From that asylum e escaped, bribing outsiders and iniders to effect the delivery. Then judge, since dead, gave him a cerificate of sanity and set him at arge.

Two years later a grand jury reurned indictments against Thaw, ccusing him of immorality on the worn statement of Frederick Gump, eighteen-year-old boy. Thaw was hen—1917—forty-five years old.

The offence had occurred in a New ork hotel. Thaw vanished from ew York.

FREED OF GUMPS

Only a few weeks ago the Gump amily, suing Thaw for $650,000, acepted cash as balm to the conciences of the young man and his arents. Incidentally, Gump's lawr signed an agreement that never ould young Gump appear in criminl proceedings or testify against haw.

With this shadow removed, the ork proceeded rapidly to get Thaw ee. His mother, Mrs. Mary Copy Thaw, who inherited millions om her husband's coal baron este, was frankly afraid. But when e was shown the complete and al discontinuance signed by Gump d assured that if there was no ump to testify against her son, re could be no prosecution in New rk against Thaw—then Mrs. aw, who has given all her later e to her son, relented.

So, with the Gumps paid and his other's alarms appeased, Thaw rewed his seventeen-year fight for eedom. Doctors are on hand to he is sane; the superintendent Kirkbride's asylum, Philadelphia, here he sought refuge from the inctments returned in the Gump afr, is expected to say that he thinks aw is no longer the lunatic which score of alienists swore he was sixn years ago and later.

s he sane? Or it just money?

Today Thaw owns a million dols in his own right. When he shot anford White he was merely a mittance-man, dependent almost irely upon his mother's bounty the funds with which to make hum.

EVELYN'S STORY

One woman is ready to swear he still insane—that he never can be e—that he is, as Austin Flint, rlos McDonald and other alienists rred, incurably a lunatic and er safe to be trusted alone with n or other weapon.

This woman is the one who sacced her conscience—her most red affairs—who made a confesn on the witness stand. She had been Evelyn Nesbit when her mother had loaned her out to Stanford White as a model. She is today Evelyn Nesbit, divorced wife of Thaw, mother of a boy thirteen, who, she swears, is Thaw's son, though he disavows the lad.

Death has swept away many of the men and women who played a big part in the Thaw case. Mrs. Susan Merrill, who produced in court the very dog-whip with which Thaw had beaten scores of girls in her apartments, is either dead or gone far away.

Stanford White was the central figure of an artistic group which Greenwich Village feebly seeks to imitate today. He had riches, age, passion and genius. A little girl whose twinkling toes in a Florodora sextet fascinated him led to his undoing.

He took her to his private harem and later moved her to the sanctum he made for himself in the topmost pinnacle of Madison Square Garden, one of his greatest architectural efforts.

NAMED THE MAN

Evelyn Nesbit's mother, Mrs. Holman, was captivated by Whites' money. The girl awoke to find herself dishonored. Back to the stage Evelyn surrendered herself. Then came Thaw.

A wedding ring was all Evelyn wanted now—that and money. Thaw had money and she forced the wedding ring on him and herself. In an old Rhineland baronial hall he whipped her alternately with other women he had purchased.

They came back to New York and amid an outburst of liquor she pointed out to Thaw the personage, Stanford White, who had ruined her.

The night was June 25, 1906, the place, Martin's restaurant, then the height of social rapidity, twenty-fourth street and Fifth avenue. Thaw saw White and crumpled in his fingers a note from his wife saying "There is the man."

Thaw found out that White was going to see "Mlle. Champagne" on the roof of Madison Square Garden. He said not a word to his companions, but took them there. Then, while his wife and their friends were looking for seats, Thaw walked down the aisle, confronted White, drew his gun and shot down the architect, exclaiming:

"You have ruined my wife—now, die."

And then began a struggle of millions. Men who knew White fought to send Thaw to the chair.

FLEES ASYLUM

Thaw's family, his own mother, said he was mad, constitutionally mad. One of his hundreds of lawyers, Delphin M. Delmas, brought from California to defend Thaw, said that the only ailment the murderer of White suffered was "dementia Americana," or the right of any man to kill another who had degraded the slayer's wife.

Tried twice and finally acquitted on the ground of insanity, Thaw was committed to Matteawan Asylum as an incurable lunatic with criminal tendencies.

Two efforts to get his freedom by habeas corpus proceedings failing, he spent a few thousand dollars more and, with the help of Richard Butler, an ex-assemblyman who was also a dock laborer's delegate, burst out of Matteawan.

In a high-powered car Thaw fled to Canada and then to Concord, N. H., only to be brought back and turned over to the criminal authorities in New York.

Supreme Court Justice Peter A. Hendrick, who has since died, ruled that Thaw had recovered his sanity and ordered him set free. That was in 1915. Two years later Thaw broke out in the Gump escapade and his mother rushed him to Pennsylvania and there had him adjudged once more incompetent, so that the criminal courts of New York could not reach out again and seize him.

NEAR DELIVERANCE

The Gump incidents still hang over Thaw's head. But without the testimony of Gump they cannot be prosecuted.

Thaw is once more seeking freedom. A gray-haired, stoop-shouldered man now, in contrast with the ruthless spendthrift of other days. Glib, studious, full of useless knowledge—he told a court in 1911 how he had read the Encyclopedia Britannica from end to end—Harry Kendall Thaw has set the stage for his new deliverance.

HOW TIME HAS MARKED THAW

EVELYN NESBIT

At top, two views of Harry K. Thaw's ex-wife. At left is photo as she appears today, her former beauty marred by the trials she has endured since the great tragedy of her life. At right, as she looked at the time of the White murder, eighteen years ago. She was then a famous Broadway beauty.

HARRY K. THAW

At top, Thaw as he looks today, a gray, tired man, seeking liberty from an insane asylum. Below, Thaw as he looked the night he killed Stanford White, June 25, 1906, for the love of the beautiful Evelyn. The latter is now fighting his release from the asylum on the grounds that he is a dangerous man and will dissipate his fortune.

RUSSELL WILLIAM THAW

Son whose paternity Thaw disputes. Evelyn Nesbit declares the rights of this son in the Thaw fortune will be jeopardized if Thaw is freed from the asylum and allowed to handle his own money. The boy plays a big part in the new Thaw drama now being staged in a Philadelphia court.

Evelyn Predicts Renewal of Atrocities If Thaw Is Freed

Atlantic City, April 14.—"Whoever takes the responsibility of setting Harry K. Thaw free from the insane asylum, whether it be a court or jury, should be held accountable for his future crimes. For as sure as fate, if he is allowed to do as he pleases, he will commit another atrocity such as the Gump case."

Evelyn Nesbit, Thaw's former wife, rose from the bed on which she had been sitting in her ill-furnished hotel room here; shook off the four Belgian griffons and the Albino Pekinese which had scrambled about her lap while she spoke; dashed to the mirror, seized a large comb and ran it through her black hair, which hangs to her shoulders in a long straight bob.

"Thaw is a paranoiac. He can never be cured—never, never, never!"

"We have a purpose in acting in this case," she declared. "I expect to go to Philadelphia to fight the attempt to free Thaw. My sole object is to protect the interests of my son. Russell is Harry Thaw's boy, and he has a right to a part of his father's estate.

"The Thaws like to give the impression that they have provided for Russell. That is not true. They have never given him a penny. Nor did they ever make any settlement on me. I have earned every penny that has paid for Russell's support.

RUSH TO COURT

"The public loses sight of the fact that whenever Harry Thaw commits an overt act his family rushes into court and has him declared insane. He is crazy, they shout, you cannot punish an insane man. Everybody knows how many times he has been adjudged insane.

"But when they feel he has remained in an asylum long enough for his crime to be forgotten, they prepare to have him declared sane again, so that he can be let loose among sane persons to do the same things over again."

"I do not hate Harry Thaw—you can hold no resentment against an insane man," she said. "He is mad and always will be, but I have no love for him. There has never been such base ingratitude as his. He is a menace to humanity.

"Think of those cases his family has settled out of court without the knowledge of the public. The Thaws have paid hundreds of thousands of dollars to do that. I know Harry Thaw attacked a page boy at the Carlton Hotel in London; that the boy was horribly injured and that he was well paid by the family not to bring suit.

DO IT AGAIN

"While he was at the Carnegie estate off the coast of Georgia—his sister, Margaret, married a nephew of Andrew Carnegie—Harry Thaw beat a horse to death. He attacked an artists' model in Paris. Then came the Gump case. I have been told that young Gump is married and wishes to live quietly. I do not blame him for trying to forget the horrible experience.

"I do not blame him for accepting money from the Thaws. It would have done him no good to prosecute. Harry Thaw slashed his wrists and was declared insane. That's how he escaped prosecution then and he will do the same thing again."

1906, which resulted in the murder of Stanford White, and Thaw's subsequent acquittal on the grounds of insanity.

Thaw was released in 1915 when he was declared sane by a jury in the New York Supreme Court. An alleged criminal assault on Frederick Gump, Jr., of Kansas City, in a New York hotel, resulted in his incarceration here in 1917 in Kirkbrides Asylum.

GRAND JURY TO MOVE IN BOY MURDER CASE

Expect Early Trial of Child's Aunt in New Jersey Strangling Crime

Catskill, N. Y., April 14.—The convening today of the Greene County Grand Jury is expected to pave the way for the presentation during the week of a motion for trial of one of three persons held in connection with the murder of seventeen-year-old Howard [illegible] of Newark, N. J.

The defendants are Mrs. [illegible], the lad's mother; Mrs. [illegible] of Brooklyn, his aunt, and [illegible], son of a Windham boarding house keeper, also [illegible] member of Windham Summer colony.

DEATH PROBED.

Indictment of the three grew out of an investigation into the boy's death after his body was found August 18, 1923, near an abandoned mill on the outskirts of Windham. The coroner's investigation disclosed he apparently had been strangled.

Action in the case was delayed by the death of a county official and the illness of the attorneys. Then a Grand Jury handed down the three indictments after a number of witnesses had been questioned. The indictments were opposed on grounds that the jury illegally was appointed. District Attorney Charles E. [illegible] sought to have the indicted held without bail, but after more hearings they were permitted to go to their homes under bail of $10,000 each.

SPECIAL GUARD.

Meanwhile, Anna [illegible], sixteen-year-old nurse, was held as the guest of the Greene County sheriff and remains in the house today. [illegible] alleged nocturnal attempts [illegible] made to intimidate or kidnap her.

They are to be tried separately and it is believed that Mrs. [illegible] will be the first to face the jury.

Titanic Disaster Shocked World 12 Years Ago

Twelve years ago tonight the greatest marine disaster in the history of ocean travel occurred with the sinking of the giant White Star liner Titanic when she struck a huge iceberg 400 miles off the coast of Newfoundland.

The total loss of life was 1517.

The Titanic was making record time on her maiden trip and the finest ship afloat. She swung from the usual steamship lane of ocean travel south of the Grand Banks of Newfoundland, and collided with an iceberg which had drifted down from the Arctic.

FITCHBURG MAN HELD AS BURGLAR

Fitchburg, April 14.—Surprised breaking into the tenement below the one in which he resides, Robert J. Dufort, twenty, of No. 12 Middle street, was captured after a chase to the roof of the house by Patrolman F. B. Reddy. The prisoner is held on a charge of breaking and entering and attempted larceny.

Mr. and Mrs. John J. Connors, occupants of the tenement, were away, but their five children were asleep in their rooms.

Police say Dufort was arrested two months ago as a "peeper."

WOOD CUTS TIES WITH ARMY TO BE DIPLOMAT

Rents Villa in France and Will Study French to Prepare for Service

Paris, April 14 (Copyright, 1924, by I. N. S.)—Lieutenant Osborne Wood, U. S. A., son of General Leonard Wood, Governor of the Philippine Islands, became plain "Mr." Wood today when his resignation from the service became effective.

Osborne Wood

"I mailed my resignation some days ago," Wood told Universal News Service. "I [illegible] who probably knew nothing about it. But [illegible] because my father was in the United States Army for many years [illegible] everything from a [illegible] viewpoint. He doesn't."

"Is it true you made $800,000 in stock speculation in Wall street?" Wood was asked.

Wood smiled as he replied: "It may be true and it may not. But if I were broke I would not be getting out of the army. I expect to leave the Hotel Crillon in a few days and move into a villa we have rented at Saint Cloud where, with my wife and son, I expect to stay until August or September, putting in the summer studying French and brushing up for the diplomatic service examinations. I hope to take the diplomatic examinations in the Autumn."

BIG APARTMENT HOUSE TO COST $5,000,000

Community Newspaper to Be Feature of Palatial Brookline Dwelling

The construction of Aulen Park Manor—the last word in palatial and luxurious dwellings—is under way in Brookline.

The structure, which will house a community of 800 or more people, will cost $5,000,000. It will be located on the old Hotel Chatham property on Colchester and Chapel streets, Brookline, and will consist of a group of apartment buildings, covering four and one-half acres of ground.

Nothing that might contribute to the comfort and convenience of the tenants will be spared in the construction of the buildings. Everything—from a community newspaper to a golf course—will be found within the gates of the Manor.

UNIQUE HERE.

The promoters of the project promise that it will be nothing that has ever been seen in this part of the country.

Even the traffic problem will be unknown on the grounds as an underground driveway will be provided for vehicular traffic.

The rental to tenants, it is said, will be on an average of $65 per room per month. A physician will be on duty twenty-four hours a day, and telephone service will be maintained night and day.

Matrons will be provided and will be at the service of such patrons of the apartments as may desire to leave their children in care of matrons while they attend the theatre.

The buildings will be constructed in the forms of crosses in such a way that every room will be on the outside. It is expected that the first of the buildings will be completed December 1.

The project is headed by C. C. Mitchell, a Detroit multi-millionaire. It is said that a structure of similar design—but not as elaborate—adjoins the residence of Edsel Ford in Detroit.

264 SUITES.

Architect Kellogg, the designer of the Tech buildings, has drawn the plans. The design will be in the Tudor style of architecture. The building will be of brick, trimmed with limestone, eight stories in height. There will be eighty-eight suites in each of the three buildings in the group. Floors will be constructed of cork.

Apartments will be ready for occupancy April 1, 1925, it is announced.

Army and Navy Club's "Patriots' Week" Backed by Smart Set, Says Betty Alden

By BETTY ALDEN.

KEENLY interested in the various activities of the Army and Navy Club's Patriots' Week is Mrs. Louis de R. Steiguer.

Since Rear-Admiral de Steiguer has taken up his duties as Commandant of the Navy Yard at Charlestown, he and his charming wife have made a host of friends hereabouts.

Mrs. de Steiguer is a member of the general committee in charge of Patriots' Week, which will open with a fittingly military bang on Saturday under the leadership of Mrs. Walter M. Pratt.

Also, Mrs. de Steiguer is of the group working for the success of a big rummage sale to be held on the 23rd at Trinity Church parish hall, with Mrs. Clifford D. Sawyer in charge.

URGE P. O. CLERKS TO FIGHT FOR MORE PAY

Boston Post Office Clerks Local 100 has urged at a meeting at Hotel Brewster to continue agitation for an increase in wages. President John A. Kelley declared the campaign is but a continuing of the drive of 1920, and that it was up to everyone to keep public opinion aroused to the dire necessity of the wants of the postal employes.

The annual election of Boston Local will be held tomorrow and Wednesday.

WOMAN SLAYS DOCTOR, JAMS BODY IN TRUNK

Confesses Deed and Guides Police to Place of Burial

Los Angeles, April 14.—Calmly and with the greatest assurance, Mrs. Margaret Willis, 38, walked into the police station here and told detectives she had shot and killed Dr. Benjamin Baldwin, Belvedere surgeon, placed his body in a trunk and hurled it from her automobile on the highway near Newhall Tunnel.

Detectives accompanied the woman to the point described near the tunnel and found the body.

While she was being treated professionally by Dr. Baldwin, Mrs. Willis said, he made advances to her, which she tried to resist. Desperate, the pretty widow shot and killed him Friday afternoon, in her own apartment.

She declared she placed the body in a wardrobe trunk and kept it in her apartment until Saturday night, when she put the gruesome casket into the rear of a roadster she had purchased from Dr. Baldwin, Mrs. Willis said, and with a friend, Bert Webster, drove into the country.

Webster also surrendered himself at police headquarters.

24 FLEE FIRE IN SOUTH END BUILDING

Cigarette Blamed for Blaze That Sweeps House at 820 Washington Street

One man was overcome by smoke and twenty-four others were forced to flee to the street when fire swept through the lodging house of Mrs. Mary Purcourt at No. 820 Washington street, South End. A cigarette carelessly thrown aside was believed to be the cause of the fire.

Samuel Taraglia, twenty four years old, a lodger, collapsed from inhaling smoke on reaching the street. He was taken to City Hospital. His condition is critical.

The building is a three-story structure. On the first floor is the Halliday Furniture Company, which was damaged by smoke and water. The lodgers lived on the second and third floors.

The fire was discovered by Mrs. Purcourt. She screamed. This alarmed some of the lodgers and they notified the others on their way to the exits.

Loss was estimated at $3,000. The building is the property of Isaac Harris, No. 6 Beacon street.

STATE SHATTERS SELF-DEFENSE PLEA OF WOMAN AXE SLAYER

HINT MRS. TELL WAS AIDED BY ACCOMPLICE IN CRIME

Middletown, Ct., April 14.—The self-defence plea of Mrs. Johanna Tell for the ghastly slaying of her employer, Charles Blair, in their desolate Killingworth farmhouse, received a severe blow through evidence unearthed by the State's attorney which leads him to believe the crime had been long planned.

In her confession to District Attorney McGeehan of the Bronx the woman said she had shot Blair only after many quarrels and at the moment he confronted her with an axe. She pictured herself as a creature at bay, facing Blair across the kitchen table, he holding the axe, she clutching the revolver concealed in her apron pocket.

Since the discovery of Blair's hacked body in the shallow clay pit in the backyard of the farm, State's Attorney Ernest A. Inglis has interviewed a number of neighbors and acquaintances.

CRIME LONG PLANNED.

His only statement was this startling announcement:

"I have reasonable ground for believing Mrs. Tell had contemplated the crime for some time. In my opinion it was not self-defence."

Last February, it was revealed, Mrs. Tell had decided to leave the lonely farmhouse in the hills, where for four years she and her daughter, Lillian, had lived with Blair.

George R. Hills, brother-in-law of Blair, told the State's attorney that while cutting wood on the Blair farm in February, he overheard a quarrel between the dead man and Mrs. Tell.

"I was piling some of the wood back of the house and I heard them quarreling," he said. "Blair said to her: 'I didnt tell you to pay $25 for that.' Then there was some more words. Finally Mrs. Tell came out into the yard. I told her if she needed any more wood that Winter I would be glad to get it for her.

BLAIR ON "VACATION."

"But she shook her head, saying, 'I won't need any more wood.' I got the impression she wasn't going to be there much longer."

The methodical manner in which the murderess left the scene of her crime was also revealed by Hills.

Even in the moment of her flight, when the heaped up mound in the backyard was fresh and soft, the woman attended to the details of closing up the house and farm.

With subtle deliberation she made the neighbors understand that Blair had taken a vacation in New York and that she and her daughter had decided to leave permanently.

"I was over at our neighbor, Piercey's," Hills related, "when Mrs. Tell brought the key to the Blair farmhouse to him.

"'I am going away for good,' she said, 'I can't stand it here any longer.' We asked where Blair was, and she said he had gone to New York."

REVOLVER IN POCKET.

Mrs. Tell sold Blair's flock of chickens to Hill. He and another neighbor, Otto Ruhlman, went to cart them away, while the slayer stood by impassively. But when the two men went into the farmhouse something seemed to snap within Mrs. Tell. With blazing eyes she led them into the front room, according to Hills, where furniture, wearing apparel, books and papers were strewn about in confusion.

"Look at this!" she exclaimed. "This is what he did before he left. Not only that, but he smashed the bureau in my room. I can't stand it any longer!"

In the kitchen, Mrs. Tell's suitcase lay open on the table. Hills noticed a revolver in the pocket of her sweater, lying on top of other clothes. He drew it out.

"Be careful," she cautioned. "It's loaded."

Hills then warned her that it was against the law to carry loaded firearms, took the pistol to the yard and fired it.

NIGHT WIFE OF BANKER; CARPENTER'S BY DAY

MRS. ANNA BESWICK

International News Reel Photo

Bigamous career of Philadelphia woman was revealed when she appeared in court on the charge of alleged forgery. It was claimed Mrs. Beswick had signed the name of William G. Martin, wealthy merchant and banker, with whom she lived as wife at night, to sundry checks. By day she was known as the mate of Samuel Beswick, a carpenter.

FREE FERRIES WHILE TUNNEL CLOSES URGED

Free rides on the city ferries while the East Boston tunnel is closed from Friday night to Monday morning next are urged by former Representative William Hearn in a letter to Mayor Curley.

The ferry toll is one cent, which will make the cost of travel eleven cents, and Hearn adds:

"While the amount involved is small the principle is great, and I respectfully urge that you take whatever steps are necessary to provide free passage for pedestrians over the city ferries on these days, such as is done on July 4th."

DOG BITES TWO CAMBRIDGE CHILDREN

Adults Flee Leaving Kiddies at Mercy of Animal in Mt. Auburn

Two Cambridge children were bitten by a mad dog that ran amuck in Holworthy street, Mount Auburn. Scores of persons, returning from Lenten services, fled from the animal.

The two youngsters, six-year-old Helen Hayes of No. 60 Holworthy street, and James Mahoney, nine years old, of No. 88 Holworthy street, were treated by physicians for serious wounds. The dog was taken to the Animal Rescue League for examination.

Ellen Hayes

The Hayes girl was sitting on the curbstone in front of her home when the dog bit her on the cheek under the left eye, and then ran to the Mahoney boy, who was playing nearby with his own dog.

Jimmy tried to protect himself, but the animal leaped on him, tore his blouse and severely bit him. Men were seen to run away when the boy screamed.

Snapping and growling, the dog turned on the churchgoers. In a half minute the crowded street was cleared. The boy was taken into a nearby house where police and physicians were called.

William Bracken, uncle of the Mahoney boy, pursued the dog for a half hour before he was able to corner him in a yard and lasso it with a clothes line. No one ventured to aid him until a neighbor threw a gunny sack over the fence. Bracken carried the dog in the sack to Harvard square police station.

The dog had a collar which bore no name. He is evidently a mongrel.

7 HORSES SAVED IN BLAZE AT MELROSE

Seven horses were rescued when the barn occupied by the Benson Coal Company on Tremont street, Melrose, was destroyed by fire, declared by the owner to be of incendiary origin. The loss is estimated at $7,000.

John Parker, caretaker of the coal yard nearby, and half a dozen firemen led by Frederick Edwards, an electrician, rushed into the burning barn and led the seven horses to safety.

Bliss Carman, Poet of Canada, Is 63 Tomorrow

If you are addicted to verse write it now. If you are not—stick to prose congratulations.

Tomorrow is the birthday of Bliss Carman. He is of Colonial ancestry. Now, although a resident of Connecticut, he is acknowledged the premier poet of Canada, the land of his birth.

You will enjoy his verse of romantic sea lands of the North and of wild vagabondage. But more will he enjoy your birthday congratulations. He was born on April 15, 1861, at Frederickton, N. B.

SENATORS CONFER ON JAP EXCLUSION BILL

Washington, April 14.—Momentous questions confronted the organization Republicans of the Senate today when they went into party conference to discuss a course of action.

Their principal task was presented by the pending Japanese exclusion amendment to the Senate immigration bill, on which an agreement was sought despite the feeling of leaders that whether they decided to support or oppose the proposal it would be adopted when it reached a vote.

BRITAIN NOT OPPOSED TO FREE STATE ENVOY

SHOTS STOP 2 IN EAST BOSTON HOLDUP CHASE

Victim, Beaten Senseless Identifies Pair as His Alleged Assailants

Two men who are alleged to have beaten George A. Sullivan of No. 51 Dakota street, Dorchester, into unconsciousness and robbed him of money, were captured by East Boston police after an exciting chase through Orient Heights, during which several shots were fired.

The men gave their names as Edwin R. Searles, twenty-seven years old, of No. 200 Princeton street, East Boston, and Edward Indigaro, twenty-one, of No. 119 Porter street, East Boston. Searles is a brother of "Nixie" Searles the pugilist.

They were positively identified by Sullivan. Police declared their hands and clothes bore bloodstains.

ADMIT ROW, DENY THEFT.

Searles and Indigaro admitted having beaten Sullivan during an argument, but denied having robbed him, the police say. The police also say that $9 in [illegible] bills were found in their pockets. Sullivan claimed he tore the bills in the struggle.

Sergeant Freeman and Patrolman Winlance went to the Orient Heights railroad station in response to a telephone call and found Sullivan there unconscious. They were informed that two men had been seen fleeing on Marsh road toward Beachmont.

PURSUED IN AUTO.

The officers drove along Marsh road in their automobile until they sighted the two fugitives. They left the machine and gave chase on foot, firing several shots at the fleeing men before they were halted.

Sullivan was removed to East Boston Relief Station and treated for severe cuts and bruises. Both of his eyes were blackened and his nose was broken in the struggle.

Cocoanut Oil Makes A Splendid Shampoo
"USE MULSIFIED"

If you want to keep your hair in good condition, be careful what you wash it with.

Many soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much free alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle and is very harmful. Mulsified cocoanut oil shampoo (which is pure and entirely greaseless), is much better than anything else you can use for shampooing, as this cannot possibly injure the hair.

Simply moisten your hair with water and rub it in. Two or three teaspoonfuls will make an abundance of rich, creamy lather, and cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. The lather rinses out easily, and removes every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excess oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves it fine and silky, bright, fluffy, wavy and easy to manage.

You can get Mulsified cocoanut oil shampoo at any drug store. It is inexpensive, and a few ounces will last everyone in the family for months.

Getting Skinnier Every Day

Something Must Be Done, and Done Right Quick, Too

Ask Your Druggist for McCoy's Cod Liver Tablets

Tens of thousands of thin, run-down men—yes, and women too—are getting discouraged—are giving up all hope of ever being able to take on flesh and look healthy and strong.

All such people can stop worrying and start to smile right now for McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Tablets, which any druggist will tell you all about, is putting flesh on hosts of skinny folks every day.

One woman, tired, weak and discouraged, put on 15 pounds in five weeks and feels fine.

We all know that Cod Liver Oil is full of flesh producing vitamines, but many people can't take it because of its horrible smell and fishy taste, and because it often upsets the stomach.

McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Tablets are as easy to take as candy, and if any thin person don't gain at least 5 pounds in 30 days your druggist will give you your money back—and only 60 cents a box. Ask Liggett's or any live pharmacist anywhere.

Immigrant's Dance Wins Her Entry as Artiste

New York, April 14.—Katherine Geffert's little pink toes served as her passport when she entered the United States.

Arriving in the steerage, the noted Russian dancer, known to the stage as Katarina Ljutikowa, found the Russian quota filled.

She told the immigration authorities she had been in the Imperial Ballet. When some of them doubted her she sprang to her toes and whirled around the tribunal like Salome before Herod.

They concluded she was an artiste and admitted her.

"Art is playing out in desolated Europe," she said. "America is growing as the art centre of the world, so I decided to come here."

CARDINAL CALLS EUROPEANS 'GRASPING'

Prelate Tells Passion Players That Old Country Misunderstands America

Cardinal O'Connell told the Passion Players of Oberammergau whom he greeted in the vestry of the Cathedral of the Holy Cross after the Palm Sunday services, that "America is misunderstood in Europe."

Said Cardinal O'Connell: "The impression abroad is that Americans are continually grasping for dollars. There is a great deal more grasping for money in Europe than in America. I am not including Oberammergau, however."

En route to the Cathedral Cardinal O'Connell was surrounded by scores of eager Palm Sunday worshippers who knelt before him and were blessed by him.

The Cardinal's talk to the Bavarians was translated in German to the rest of the Passion Players by Anton Lang, the Christus, after the Cardinal explained he could not speak German very well.

As the Passion Players entered the reception room, each knelt and kissed the Cardinal's ring. The Cardinal gave each his blessing.

"I saw the Passion Play in 1900," the Cardinal said, "and was infinitely touched. There was rain all day, but nothing seemed to make any difference. It was tremendously impressive. I saw cold-blooded business men weep as if their hearts would break.

"All that helps. It was told so simply—such few words with sublime thoughts. It was extremely artistic. It was harrowing, but good to see.

"Yours is a great mission. I hope you have success. The world ought to be glad to help you, you do so much good. God bless you."

WOMAN LURED TO LONELY SPOT AND SLAIN

Chicago, April 14 (Universal).—The body of a woman found on the edge of the estate of Mrs. Edith Rockefeller McCormick was identified as that of Mrs. Anna De Joy. The identification was made by Mrs. A. Hoanke, mother of the dead woman.

The finding of the body revealed a shocking homicide. Mrs. De Joy disappeared February 26. Her husband, James, dropped out of sight at the same time.

The authorities are lending every effort to locate the husband, believing he will be able to shed light on the tragedy. He had been employed as a chaffeur.

The authorities believe the woman was lured to the open space and slain. Her throat was cut, the eyes gouged out, and the face lacerated possibly with the belief that identification would be made impossible.

POLICE CHIEF OF BELMONT IN AUTO CRASH

Is Severely Injured With Two Others as Machines Collide Near Wayside Inn

South Sudbury, April 14.—Chief of Police John Argy of Belmont and two other persons were injured in an automobile collision near Wayside Inn.

According to Chief of Police Samuel W. Hall of this town, the accident was due to overspeeding on the part of one or the other of the machines.

Chief Argy and a companion, Wilbur Downes of Waverly, were removed to Malrboro Hospital. Chief Argy suffered fractured bones of the right hand, cuts of the forehead, and shock. Downes, who was driving, suffered a severely lacerated tongue and cuts of the forehead.

Both Downes and Charles M. Stiles of No. 21 Garfield street, Melrose, driver of the other automobile, denied their machines were proceeding above the speed limit at the time of the crash.

Stiles was uninjured, but a girl companion, about nineteen years old, whose name was not obtained, suffered severe cuts and bruises and was removed by a passing automobilist to her home in Shrewsbury.

Bobb Hair Girl to End Double Standard of Morals, Says Doctor

Chicago, April 14 (By U.S.).—The modern girl with her bobbed hair and short skirts is destined to abolish the double standard of morality, in the opinion of Dr. Herman N. Bundezen, Chicago health commissioner.

"The women of today," he said, "have broken away from the old standards of girlhood training and the marked sex repression which has characterized earlier generations. Fortunately, few remain of the anemic, tightly corseted, skirt trailing and easily fainting women.

For You—New Charm

The whiter teeth that millions show today

Teeth freed from dingy film

This Offers

A 10-day test—see coupon

No Cloudy Film

On their teeth—why on yours?

Wherever you look now you see whiter teeth, and see what they add to one's looks. This offers you the method—a free test.

Millions now employ it. To careful people of some 50 nations it has brought a new dental era. It means a great deal to you and yours. Let this test prove that to you.

Why teeth are dim

You feel on teeth a viscous film. Under old-way brushing, much of it clings and stays. No ordinary tooth paste effectively combats it.

Food stains, etc., discolor it, then it forms dingy coats. That's why most teeth are clouded more or less.

Film also holds food substance which ferments and forms acid. It holds the acid in contact with the teeth to cause decay. Germs breed by millions in it. They, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea.

Those film-caused troubles became almost universal under old ways of teeth cleaning.

Now a new day

Now things have changed. Dental science has found two ways to fight that film. One disintegrates the film at all stages of formation. One removes it without harmful scouring.

Protect the Enamel

Pepsodent disintegrates the film, then removes it with an agent far softer than enamel. Never use a film combatant which contains harsh grit.

Many careful tests have proved these methods effective. A new-type tooth paste has been created to apply them daily. The name is Pepsodent.

The use has now spread the world over, largely by dental advice. The benefits are seen all around you.

Watch the changes

Pepsodent brings other effects which mean great help to you. It multiplies the alkalinity of the saliva. That is there to neutralize mouth acids. It multiplies the starch digestant in saliva. That is there to digest starch deposits on teeth.

You will see and feel these new effects. And the book we send will tell you what they mean.

Send the coupon for a 10-Day Tube. Note how clean the teeth feel after using. Mark the absence of the viscous film. See how teeth become whiter as the film-coats disappear.

You will be amazed, delighted and convinced. You will know that people in your home should use this new-day method. Cut out coupon now.

SORROWING MAN SETS HIMSELF ON FIRE

East Boston Husband, Grieving at His Arrest on Drunk Charge, Nearly Loses Life

Rather than face the humiliation of meeting his wife who got him out of clutches of the police after his arrest on a drunk charge, Henry D. Corbett of East Boston went to his brother's home at No. 4 Liverpool court, drank some "sorrow-drowning" stuff, smoked a cigarette and set himself and the house afire.

Firemen and police rescued him from a burning couch in the dining room. He was compelled by the bluecoats to return to a cell in the station.

GRILL LUNATIC AS FIREBUG AT FOREST HILLS

Believed to Have Caused Barn and Apartment Blazes There

An insane man, patient at a local hospital, is suspected by police of having set the two fires which swept buildings in Forest Hills square, and were featured by thrilling rescues of women and children.

The police interviewed the lunatic suspected of having set the blazes after they were informed that he had escaped from the institution shortly before the fires were discovered and returned shortly afterwards.

Mrs. Helen J. Mullen, occupant of a suit on the second floor of the Morton Block, one of the burned buildings, told the police she saw a man dash from a stairway to the street during the blaze.

She went to the hospital in company with Sergeant Alfred Daniels of the West Roxbury station, but failed to identify the insane patient as the man she saw at the blaze. She had declared the description of the lunatic coincide with that of the man she had seen.

The police failed to secure a coherent statement from the madman. Hospital officials declared that he was given the freedom of the hospital yard and had strayed away, being absent during the time of the fire.

The first fire swept the upper floors of the Morton Block, while the second blaze, discovered shortly afterwards, destroyed the barn owned by Daniel Dolan.

Upstairs REM stops downstairs cough

As long as meters and wiring are installed in damp cellars, electricians are likely to be bothered by coughs.

Mr. Robert J. Roth, 1791 18th St., Detroit, got a cough that way, but he didn't have to go far to find relief. He was working in the basement of a drug store and — but we'll let him tell the story himself:

> "I'm an electrician and have to do a lot of work in cellars where it's pretty damp, so I often catch cold, usually with a cough, too.
> "Well, sir, last winter I had a bad one. A real dry cough and the phlegm was hard to get rid of. It was mighty annoying and uncomfortable.
> "I was working then in the basement of one of the Brownie Drug Stores and I remembered having read about REM being so good for a cough, so I went upstairs and got a bottle. By golly, that REM fixed me up quick. It hit the spot right away.
> "Just now a girl was talking to me about a cough she had. I told her to get a bottle of REM for it. I'm always glad to push a good thing along."

The surprising popularity of REM for coughs is due very largely to grateful users who have passed the good word along.

REM contains a special ingredient (too expensive for old-style, slower-acting cough syrups) that makes it cling to your throat as you swallow. Spreading over the sore, inflamed membranes in a soothing, healing film, it quickly quiets the cough.

REM is pleasant to take and contains no Opiates.

Your druggist has REM—ask him for it. You can have your money back if it doesn't help you. You're the Judge and Jury.

NEGRO PRISONER ON HUNGER STRIKE

Concord, N. H., April 14.—George Hause, negro, who is charged with the murder of George Goldberg and with assault with intent to kill a policeman, has been on a hunger strike at the County Jail since Wednesday last.

Hause, declaring that an attempt was being made to poison him, refused to eat any food after he was returned to jail, following his arraignment Wednesday.

Adolph Koehler, twenty years old, was taken from the Merrimac river at West Newbury and identified by local relatives. Koehler, a weaver by trade, became discouraged over working conditions found upon his arrival in America a few months ago. He had been missing since March 12.

1 DEAD, 4 HURT IN TROLLEY ACCIDENT

Schenectady, N. Y., April 14.—One man was killed, another was critically injured and three other persons hurt, when an Albany-Schenectady electric car struck an automobile. Arthur Moyle of Schenectady was killed.

"Prices realized on Swift & Company's sales of carcass beef in Boston for week ending Saturday, April 12th, on shipments sold out, ranged from [illegible] cents to 18.84 cents per pound and averaged 13.21 cents per pound."—Advt.

THIEVES ABANDON AUTO AFTER CHASE

Patrolman Benjamin Poole of the East Boston station effected quick recovery of a stolen automobile early today when he chased a speeding car on Summer street which was finally abandoned by two young men. It proved to be the property of Samuel Hurwitz of Brighton, who left the motor in front of a place of worship.

LEW TENDLER AND SAILOR FRIEDMAN IN BOUT AT TRIPLE A

LOOK FOR KAYO IN BIG GO

By JACK CONWAY.

"Tendler can knock out anybody he can hit."

That's Phil Glassman's opinion of the Philadelphia ring star. Glassman should know Tendler's qualifications better than anybody else, as he has directed the affairs of Lefty Lew since the latter quit selling newspapers on Broad street, Philadelphia, and started his surge for world's championships.

Lew Tendler

Boston and New England fans will once more receive an opportunity to see this colorful fighter in action when he clashes with Sailor Friedman of Chicago in the feature ten-round bout at the Armory A. A.'s show at Mechanics Building tomorrow night.

Those fans who saw Tendler knock out Frankie Britt in three rounds and polish off Frankie Callahan in five rounds are eager to see Lefty Lew hurl the big wallop around.

Tendler, for years Benny Leonard's most serious worry, has forsaken the lightweight division. He experienced difficulty in reducing to 135 pounds and decided he would be able to show to better advantage if he restricted his efforts to the welterweight division.

TENDLER TO GO GUNNING FOR WALKER'S TITLE.

So the Glassman entry will go gunning for Mickey Walker's championship.

Tendler is making his debut as a welterweight against one of the world's toughest 142-145-pounders. Friedman showed in Boston on one occasion, giving Willie Harmon a boxing lesson.

Friedman proved his walloping power when he stopped Eddie Fitzsimmons, an old Boston favorite, in six rounds in New York. He knocked out K. O. Loughlin in four sessions and Frankie Callahan in eight chapters.

Benny Leonard, Charley White and Johnny Dundee were also socked around by this two-fisted youth.

Benny Bass of Philadelphia, who will also go to the barrier with the Glassman colors, will toss punches in the general direction of Benny Linn of New York. Spike Hennessey of Waltham will collide with Jackie Williams of Chicago, while Charley Donovan of Dorchester will have Al Bergeron as an opponent.

Donovan and Bergeron recently furnished a torrid quarrel, the decision going to Donovan by a narrow margin.

Pat McCarthy, New England light heavyweight champion, was an interested spectator at the recent Hambone Kelly-Wolf Larsen bout.

PAT McCARTHY READY TO TACKLE HAMBONE.

"Hambone will wallop Wolf," Pat told this writer before the contest, "but I could defeat either of them. When I last met Kelly, I almost knocked him out in the sixth round although I was bothered by a broken hand.

"I broke my right hand while in the navy. The bone was never set properly and every time I boxed I would knock it out of position and would suffer intense pain. After my bout with Wilson, I had the bone rebroken by a surgeon and set properly. The result is that I can now punch with my right without suffering any pain.

"I don't think I shall have much trouble in knocking out Hambone if we ever meet again."

Frankie Murray, formerly of Philadelphia, who is now making his home in South Boston, is sure to play an important part in the New England flyweight and bantamweight divisions. This youth is a brother of Tommy Murray, Philadelphia boxer who has shown to advantage here on several occasions.

Frankie has all of the ring class of his brother, with a little more showmanship. He made a decided hit with those who saw him polish off Charley Baxter.

Johnny Donovan, former South Boston boxer, is acting as Murray's manager. He believes that after another local start that his protege will be prepared to tackle Pancho Villa. It looks as though Frankie will be matched to battle Young Dencio or Johnny Buff.

BOSTON BREATHLESS TO HEAR BAWL, 'BATTER UP'

come to this corner of the world a long time ago.

OPEN WITH YANKS.

Great things are expected of the Boston clubs this campaign. There may be too much optimism, probably is, but that's all a part of the opening ceremonies. The first hysteria will wear off, and then the sunfish will settle back and be perfectly happy to watch a couple of ball teams really trying to get somewhere.

Bob Quinn's Red Sox, back from the west, come in for the first profitable welcome. They open with the biggest drawing card on the planet, Babe Ruth and the Yankees, world champs, and you couldn't figure out a better program if you tried.

Our Braves are prying off the lid over in Philadelphia, thereby having a splendid opportunity to get out of last place right at the blowoff, and stay that way. Our Braves will find plenty of friends when they come here next week, as the village is all ready to give the keys, etc., to Davey Bancroft, the new manager. The fans are going to find Davey a very easy person to grow enthusiastic about.

BOTH HUB TEAMS IN GREAT SHAPE.

Both Boston clubs come up to the line in very good condition, though the Braves are a bit uncertain about their outfield, having lost Felix for a time, and Al Nixon permanently, unless Judge Fuchs can put through some sort of a trade with the Phillies. The same is being attempted today.

The Sox made a very impressive record in their march from the winds of Texas, and are just what the fans want, a team with a punch. The club is dangerous for any pitcher, and apparently has the pitching strength to drop plenty of pastimes in the ice chest.

Jack Quinn

Manager Fohl has a real second base combination Dudley Lee and Wambsganns—a few new sluggers, and every prospect in the world of finishing several notches above the cellar anyway. The natives hope and sort of expect to see the Fenway flock wriggle up to the top of the second division, and that's not such a wild expectation.

The day will have all the fuss and frills that are chronic to the occasion. You know what we mean. The band and the flag raising, and all that sort of thing. Even in Philadelphia the boys have a good time on opening day. It used to be a wonderful affair here in the good old times, and all the thrill and kick will be back tomorrow.

LOOKS LIKE BIG YEAR IN BASEBALL.

It looks like a great year for baseball, anyhow. Both leagues have strengthened considerably, and races promise to be much closer than they were a year ago. The Giants have at least two very dangerous contenders for their crown. It's about an even bet that they won't repeat, while the Yankees haven't a chance to spread-eagle the field as they did in '23. The Indians, Tigers and Browns will cause them plenty of early trouble.

Bill Wambganss

Dudley Lee

This is almost a record year for new managers, too. There are four strangers, so to speak in the American League, and two in the National. Both Boston skippers, as you know, are debuting. Lee Fohl of the Sox is an old hand at it, while Dave Bancroft is making his initial stab with the Braves.

George Sisler of the Browns will be watched by every fan in the universe. He steps out as a manager, and will try to com back as a first baseman and slugger. Stanley Harris, of the Senators is one of the youngest directors ever nominated. Frank Chance takes over a tough job with the White Sox in Chicago. He has always been a National League idol there, and will have to be in the race to win over the other gang in that excitable and partisan metropolis. Jack Hendricks, with a lot of experience, brings the Cincinnati Reds to the wire, the team that the late Pat Moran had all moulded for a championship run.

All this managerial trying out will furnish plenty of excitement until the team gets straightened out in a month or so. And all that Boston needs is an April and May spurt by either or both clubs to hang up a few new attendance records. Lee Fohl will attempt to inaugurate one of those sprints tomorrow afternoon.

It wouldn't be a bad idea at all to get your tickets early.

50 BASKETS OUT OF 50 SHOTS FROM FOUL

Bloomington, Ind., April 14.—Making a perfect score of fifty baskets out of fifty shots from the foul line, Herbert Havens of the Lebanon basketball team, won the free throw championship of Indiana high schools in the first annual contest conducted by Indiana University.

Ethel Mandel of the Indiana State School for the Deaf at Indianapolis won the championship among girl players by counting thirty-three out of fifty shots.

QUANTICO MARINES TO MEET DICKINSON

Philadelphia, April 14.—Five thousand marines headed by General Butler will be in the Franklin Field Stadium when their famous football team from Quantico, Va., plays the Dickinson eleven on election day, November 4. Arrangements for holding the game here were completed today with Ernest B. Cozens, graduate manager of athletics at Penn.

Jimmy Henigan Will Not Run April 19

Jimmy Henigan of the Dorchester Club has decided not to run in the B. A. A. Marathon on Saturday. He will confine himself to shorter distances, and hopes to make a place on the Olympic cross-country team. Henigan has tried the long Patriots' Day grind five times, but has never finished.

TUFTS TO PLAY THREE GAMES AT OVAL

Fred Lake's Tufts College nine will play three games at Tufts Oval on three consecutive days this week. Providence College invades Medford to clash with the Jumbos on Thursday. Lowell Textile opens its baseball season on the following day with the Hillside college outfit, while Boston University's fighting aggregation will oppose Tufts on Saturday.

Tufts will enter all three games a big favorite, although it remains to be seen whether or not the Brown and Blue twirlers will live up to past predictions.

After getting away to a bad start, Fred Lake states that his squad will clean up everything in sight this week.

Bob Hunter, Armand Chandonnett and Art Kattari are the trio of Tufts College pitchers that will toe the slab. Hunter is slated to do the honors against Providence.

Armand Chandonnett may start against Lowell Textile while Art Kattari will be available against Boston University. Chandonnett hopes to celebrate his debut this season by turning back Lowell Textile. Kattari fanned eight Northeastern batsmen last Saturday and Coach Lake believes that he will be a [illegible] before the season gets well underway.

Fred Lake intends to shake up his infield a bit this week. Everything is smooth in the outfield with two veterans available, together with Carl Kielman.

GRAHAM MAY GET BOUT WITH VILLA

Syracuse, N. Y., April 14.—Pancho Villa, world's flyweight champion, will display his wares in the arena this Summer. Matchmaker Charley Huck today has a contest calling for the fighting Filipino to appear here.

Villa's opponent will probably be Bushey Graham, the sensational bantamweight of Utica. Graham, by his sensational knockout victory over Pete Zivic in Troy, and his recent triumph over Frankie Ash, England's flyweight kingpin here, has climbed to the top of his rank.

ST. MARY'S VS. CHELSEA AT ROXBURY TONIGHT

St. Mary's C. A. of Cambridge, runners up in the South Shore League, will finish their season tonight when they meet Chelsea K. of C. to decide the championship of Greater Boston. This is the third of a three game series and a great many fans from both cities are expected to be on hand.

Chelsea took St. Mary's in their own court two weeks ago and St. Mary's evened it up in Chelsea a week ago. St. Mary's will have their regular lineup, consisting of McKenzie and Kelley forwards, Sullivan and Connors backs and Kiley center.

PIRATES TO RETURN AGAIN TO COAST

President Barney Dreyfus of Pittsburgh is so well pleased with San Francisco, as a training camp that he has completed arrangements with the 'Frisco Club for training there in 1925. It is announced that the Pirates will meet the Seals during that period in a 12 or 14-game series.

JIM LONDOS TO BATTLE HERE THURSDAY

Greeks from Lowell, Lynn, Lawrence, Haverhill, Worcester, Brockton and surrounding towns will turn out in numbers to greet their idol, Jimmy Londos, when he appears in one of the all-star wrestling bouts to be staged at the Grand Opera House on Thursday night. He will appear in a finish match with Count Nicholas Zarynoff, the Russian nobleman who made such a wonderful showing against Stanley Stasiak a few weeks ago.

Jimmy Londos

The Count and Londos are almost equal in size and as both are clever performers a wonderful bout should result. Just how good Londos is no one knows as he hasn't appeared here for two years, but reports from the West, where he has been wrestling, indicate he is in wonderful form.

Another feature on the card will be George Kotsonaros. He will meet Andreas Costanas, the Spanish bull fighter in a finish contest. Reports from the West, where the Spaniard wrestled Lewis, Zbyszko and others would indicate he is in wonderful form. He can be counted on to give Kotsy a real run for his money. The Greek wants to redeem himself for the defeat inflicted upon him by Taramaschi. Should he be successful with the Spanish champion he will go right out again after the top notchers and try to force their hands.

In another feature bout, Stanley Stasiak, great Polish wrestler, is pitted against Joseph Baganz, who is booked as Europe's Roughest Wrestler. Should he start anything of this kind with Stasiak he will find two can get rough as well as one.

VIRGINIA TO MEET LEADING TRACK TEAMS

Charlottesville, Va., April 14.—The University of Virginia track squad will open its season today against Virginia Military Institute.

Virginia has arranged meets with some of the best track teams in the eastern United States. In addition, Virginia will be represented at the Penn relay carnival in Philadelphia.

The schedule follows:

April 12, Virginia Military Institute, at home; April 19, Navy and Syracuse, at Annapolis; April 23, Syracuse, at home; April 26 and 27, Penn relay carnival, Philadelphia; May 1, Harvard, at Cambridge; May 3, Army and Columbia, at West Point; May 9 and 10, Northern Division of Southern Conference.

SEMI-FINAL GAMES IN BASKETBALL

The basketball tournament at the Boys' Club of Boston will start on its third week when the first round of the semi-finals get under way tonight.

The schedule for the coming week:

Monday—Fisher All Stars of Everett vs. Elm A. A. of Charlestown; Bunker Hill A. A. vs. Swanees of Chelsea.

Tuesday—Cari Eutens of West End vs. North Salem Socials; Olivers of Everett vs. St. Joseph's Catholic Club of Roxbury.

Wednesday—Shamrock Midgets of Charlestown vs. Marion A. C. of East Boston; Salem A. A. vs. Dudley A. C. of Roxbury.

Thursday—Y. M. H. A. Intermediates of Chelsea vs. Boy Scouts Troop 7 of Arlington; Orioles of Charlestown vs. Hillside A. C. of Medford.

SAUER KRAUT PRIZE FOR HOME RUNS

Everything will be sauer kraut in Burlington, Wis., this year—that is if there are any home runs. J. J. Wolf, who owns the club, and incidentally a sauer kraut factory, has promised to give every player who socks a homer a barrel of the stuff, whether he likes it or not.

REDS LIKELY TO HOLD ON TO PRIESMUTH

Cincinnati, April 14.—Jimmy Priesmuth, rookie southpaw pitcher, was so successful with his curve in the early games that there is more than a probability he will be retained by the Reds. He is to get another chance before the training trip is over, and if he repeats the decision to let him go will be reversed.

Hambone Has No Broken Bones, Says Surgeon

The mighty Hambone Kelly has not broken any of the bones in his left hand, as was feared following his six-round victory over Wolf Larsen.

An examination of Kelly's injured member by a surgeon shows that no bones were broken, and that the Kayo King merely bruised his bread winner.

After a couple of days' layoff, Hambone will resume training.

"I want to match Kelly with Mike McTigue, George Carpentier or Young Stribling," declared Manager Johnny McGrath today.

B. C. NINE READY FOR OPENING OF SEASON

Ward and Brosnan will don the Maroon and Gold for the first time this week when the Boston College baseball season gets under way. The Eagle will face Northeastern in its opener on Wednesday and the strong Vermont nine on Saturday.

Sonney Foley.

Ward will catch the offerings of either Steve Patten or Eddie Mullowney, while Brosnan, at second, will be playing his first college game. The remainder of the B. C. team is composed of veterans.

The outfield is composed of one of the finest set of gardeners in college baseball. Wilson, who hit second in last year's college list, is back at left, with Darling, chief slugger on the team, in centre. Captain Tommy Phillips will be eagerly watched in his new position in the sun field.

Gus Whalen, at first, Sonny Foley at short and Cronin at the hot corner, are a dependable trio who worked a dozen feature double-plays a year ago. Brosnan at the keystone sack is the only unknown quantity in the infield.

Northeastern, against whom B. C. lines up on Wednesday, boasts of only five regulars. Bernie Ayles, captain and second baseman, is a hard customer to pierce, while the Eagle felt the sting of Richards' curves last Spring. The field will be taken care of in Watson, a veteran, Flynn and Werner.

The infield, a fairly strong quartet, is composed of Ayles, Brooks at the initial sack, Marden at short and Jones. Deschampes will be behind the bat.

Briton After Dundee Crown

New York—Below is a photo of Ernie Izzard, featherweight champion of Great Britain, as he arrived here to fulfill engagements. Izzard had hardly arrived on American soil before he told of his challenge to Johnny Dundee and of his ambition to fight the American boxer.

Don't Let That Cold Turn Into "Flu"

Rub on Good Old Musterole

That cold may turn into "Flu," Grippe or, even worse, Pneumonia, unless you take care of it at once.

Rub good old musterole on the congested parts and see how quickly it brings relief.

Colds are merely congestion. Musterole, made from pure oil of mustard, camphor, menthol and other simple ingredients, is a counter-irritant which stimulates circulation and helps break up the cold.

As effective as the messy old mustard plaster, does the work without blister.

Just rub it on with your fingertips. You will feel a warm tingle as it enters the pores, then a cooling sensation that brings welcome relief.

To Mothers:* Musterole is also made in milder form for babies and small children. Ask for Children's Musterole.

SOX LOSE FINAL PRE-SEASON CONTEST

By FRED C. LANE.

Indianapolis, Ind., April 14.—The Red Sox completed their Spring tour here yesterday, losing a fighting ball game with Onie Bush's Indians, by a score of 7 to 6. The American Association club proved the best of contestants, doing more to put Lee Fohl's players on their toes than all the other opponents the Sox met on their way East from Texas.

Fulerton.

In the windup game, the Sox battled all the way, but showed lapses in team play when put under the pressure of a real ball game. Fullerton was in the box for the Sox, and the tall Noodle Island boy showed plenty of good stuff although he was hit hard in spots.

The Sox did some very heady base-running, stretching several hits and getting a very important run through the quick thinking of Danny Clark who scored from second base on an infield hit.

As the team tuned up for Tuesday's opening, the infield peppered things up and Lee, in particular, led the defense in a fashion which leaves no doubt about his being ready for his first appearance in Bob Quinn's togs at Fenway Park.

MALDEN PLAYS B. C. HIGH TOMORROW

Malden High opens its baseball season tomorrow afternoon, when it plays Boston College High School at Cradock Park, Malden. Neither team has had much practice for the opener.

Malden High's home games will not be played in the new Stadium as the grading and seeding has not been completed and the grounds will not be in the best of condition until the football season opens.

BRAVES START ON WAR PATH TOMORROW AT PHILADELPHIA

JOE GENEWICH SLATED TO TWIRL IN OPENER

Baltimore, Md., April 14.—Joe Genewich, the boy wonder, will pitch for the Braves in the opening game of the campaign tomorrow against the Phillies in Philadelphia. He showed during the three innings he toiled Saturday against the Senators that he is ready to hear the clang of the bell.

Joe Genewich

More than a little concern was felt for the young man in Saturday's game when he stuck his bare hand in the way of a terrific liner from "Muddy" Ruel's bat breaking the force of the drive sufficiently to permit Dave Bancroft to throw out the batter.

Joe, however, declares he got the palm of his hand in the way of the ball and that all he received was a good stinging. He was able to continue pitching and his hand seems normal, so probably he will give the usual good account of himself in the overture.

The Braves have made a substantial offer to the Indianapolis club of the American Association in players, in cash for centre fielder Eddie Brown, who is claimed to have everything except a good throwing arm. Almost every one concedes that the big fellow can hit and field, and that is what is needed more than in classing outfielders today as the lively ball makes them play so far in the offing that assistance generally is needed getting the ball back into the diamond.

Emil Fuchs

Judge Fuchs declares he still is working on the Al Nixon case and hopes to receive a favorable verdict. He has offered infielder Al Hermann, the youngster who came from Colgate University last summer to the Toledo club and the boy undoubtedly will go there as he needs plenty of campaigning.

The Tribals face Baltimore this afternoon, and Sterling Stryker is delegated to heave.

The genial Judge says never again will he permit a member of the Braves party to act as an umpire in an exhibition series. He will insist on big league umpires in future Spring engagements. He refers to Arthur Devlin, the Tribal scout, who worked on the bases in the series with the Senators. Devlin was instructed to call the close ones in favor of the Senators.

On the other hand the Braves say they were not given an even break behind the bat by Bill McGowan, who is an umpire from the Southern Association, hired by the Senators. Their outbursts from the bench caused the commotion at Washington yesterday.

The final game of the Spring series between the Braves and Senators resulted, as did four out of the five previously played, in a victory for the Senators.

The score was 8 to 7.

For a time it looked as if the game would not be finished. It was about the poorest game Boston put up this Spring.

Reds May Buy Fla. Camp

Cincinnati, April 14.—The Cincinnati National League baseball club is considering the purchase of Tinker field at Orlando as a permanent site for the Spring camp.

Red Sox Schedule in Colors Tomorrow With American

There will be a Red Sox baseball schedule in colors with all editions of tomorrow's Boston American.

This will be pleasing news to Boston and New England baseball fans. The diamond pastime has become more popular in this city with Bob Quinn at the head of the Red Sox. Naturally the fans are eager to have the Red Sox schedule for the season.

The Sox get under way tomorrow with the Yankees as opponents.

Journey out to Fenway Park to give them a rousing send off.

Also don't forget to get the Red Sox schedule in colors in the Boston American.

BOSTON BOXERS WILL DEFEND TITLES

New York and Montreal simon pures will invade Boston Tuesday evening, April 22, to clash with the undefeated Boston boxers in the final tournament of the year before the annual N. E. and national championships. This tournament, which looms up as the best of the season, will be staged at the Boston Arena to accommodate the big crowd which will turn out.

Followers of the simon pures will witness four classes of bouts between these teams. The classes are 118, 126, 135 and 147 lbs., and it was announced yesterday that the same team of Hub boys which recently defeated Toronto and Buffalo will again represent the Hub.

With three open classes, 112, 160 and heavyweight also on the card, the fans face one of the biggest tourneys of the year. Already there are six entries in the heavyweight division, while it is reported that the other classes are filling fast.

With the N. E. championships carded May 8 and the nationals May 19, 20 and 21, local boxers will get their final tryouts in this tourney.

Entries can be made with William H. Cuddy, 95 Cambridge street, while tickets can be procured at the headquarters of the St. Joseph's T. A. S., Room 8, 28 School street.

BERLENBACH FORCED TO FRONT TOO RAPIDLY

New York, April 14.—"Paul Berlenbach is being forced into the toughest position of any man in pugilistic history," declares Dan Hickey, his tutor and manager.

"Here is a boy who never had a boxing glove on his hand until a year ago. He has been a professional for only six months and, so far as experience is concerned, is still an absolute novice.

"He should be fighting, for another year or so, nothing but ordinary ringmen until he acquires the most vital thing a ringman must have—experience. Yet the boxing officials say he couldn't fight any more men for training and experience purposes and must fight champions or near champions; men who, through many years of battling, have acquired much in generalship, in resourcefulness and ring craft.

"As long as that is the order of things, that's what Paul Berlenbach is going to do, even though his "greenness" in ring antics is a terrific handicap to him. I'll turn him loose against any and all comers from now on; and I feel certain that his ability to take punishment and his amazing hitting power will enable him to do to the stars what he has done to the mediocre men he has fought."

SAYS BERLENBACH HITS HARDER THAN FITZ.

"I handled Bob Fitzsimmons when the Cornishman was champion and the world knows what a hitter he was, without trying to take any glory from the Immortal Fitz. I really believe that Paul Berlenbach of today hits to the jaw or body with more terrific impact than did the Immortal Fitzsimmons.

"I think Paul is the super hitter of the prize ring, the most powerful puncher of all time. Time will prove the truth of the fallacy of my belief in him."

CLARK TACKLES WARREN IN GO AT LYNN

The Casino A. C. of Lynn will open up the week's fistic events tonight with a bill that figures to furnish the fans with plenty of the kind of action that makes a hit with the fistic bugs.

Jimmy Manning

While there are no world beaters on the card all the boys are well-known and satisfactory performers and as they are very evenly matched the going should more than satisfy the fans.

Jimmy Manning of South Boston and Benny Nelson of Lowell are in the opening bout of eight rounds. Both are fast little fellows and they promise to mix it all the time they are in there.

Harry Brown of Peabody who is yet to meet defeat in the professional ranks is up against a sweet fighter in Tony Mandell of Worcester who has cleaned up all the boys of his weight in the western part of the State where he is regarded as a coming champion.

George Corboss, the Fighting Greek of Peabody, and Johnny Marto of Boston, who have engaged in two sensational battles at Lynn with honors even, will meet in the rubber battle and it promises to be as spectacular as their previous meetings.

OFFICIALS GO OVER MARATHON COURSE

Albert Geiger, Jr., chairman of the Boston Athletic Association sports committee, and Thomas Kanaly, manager, journeyed over the new B. A. A. marathon course today to see if everything is suitable for the big B. A. A. classic on April 19.

The new starting point will be placed at Hopkinton, a mile and 385 yards from the former start at Ashland.

DENTURED ALCOHOL DRUNK IN SCOTLAND

Edinburgh, Scotland, April 14.—The poorer classes of people in Scotland are consuming denatured alcohol in increasing quantities due to the low cost as compared with other alcoholic drinks.

The government is planning drastic action, and Secretary for Scotland Adamson has promised that after May 1 all methylated spirits, except that used for furniture polish, will be so treated that they cannot be used as a beverage.

GREEKS NAME REGENT PROVISIONAL HEAD

London, April 14 (I. N. S.)—Admiral Condouriotis, regent of Greece, has been proclaimed provisional president by the new Greek republic, according to a Central News dispatch from Athens. The National Assembly will elect a Senate and then both bodies will elect a permanent president.

The dispatch added that General Pangalos will conduct a campaign against brigandage in Greece.

How To Keep A Child Healthy

A GENERATION ago parents thought that sickness was a part of a child's life, but we know better now. The secret is in the food the mother allows the child to eat, and in watching that elimination occurs regularly two or three times a day. Mrs. J. Russell of 19,141 Havana Ave., Detroit, Mich., keeps her family of two young children in perfect health with Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, and Mrs. R. L. Smith of 519 Maple Ave., East Pittsburg, Pa., says her family of three children have never been sick a day since giving them Syrup Pepsin.

A Substitute for Physics

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is a scientific compound of Egyptian senna with pepsin and suitable aromatics. The formula is on every package. You will find you do not have to force children to take it, and it is much better for them than castor oil, calomel or coal-tar drugs like phenolphthalein even if covered with sugar or chocolate. Syrup Pepsin is mild and gentle in action and your child will have an easy passage without griping or strain. It does not contain narcotics, and you can give it with absolute safety to an infant at the breast.

"Magic" in a Teaspoonful

Every store that sells medicines sells Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, and the cost is less than a cent a dose. Give half a teaspoonful to any ailing baby or child at night when you put it to bed and you will find a happy, laughing youngster in the morning. Take Syrup Pepsin yourself when constipated, and give it to any member of the family young or old, for any ailment due to constipation, such as biliousness, headache, lack of appetite, sleeplessness, bad breath, cankers, fever sores, indigestion, and to break up fevers and colds. Stop that first sneeze or sniffle and you will have a healthy winter.

'RED ROBE' IS ON FINAL WEEK AT PARK

Spectacular Photodrama of Richelieu's Time Thrills Audiences

"Under the Red Robe" is on its final week at the Park Theatre. The action centres around Cardinal Richelieu and is developed in a wealth of incident and detail. Robert Mantell gives to the screen a deeper and more human Richelieu than he ever gave to the stage.

It takes a tremendous degree of power to dominate the vast scenes as he does, where thousands of men and women in gorgeous raiment are gathered together. But it takes even greater power to show the great tragedy and loneliness of the cardinal, stripped of his power and wandering forlornly through the empty halls of his great palace.

Mr. Mantell is to be congratulated on holding high the banners of his art and not letting them be trampled down by the sheer magnificence of the spectacle.

All the joyous beauty of Spring and Summer are in the scintillant leaves and glowing flowers that are the background of the action. Even the sunshine takes on a dramatic quality in the handling of these outdoor scenes.

All this is but a sort of accompaniment to the love of Gil de Berault and Renee de Cocheforet. John Charles Thomas as Gil de Berault satisfied the most exacting demands for the ideal hero and lover. Alma Rubens as Renee, has fine opportunities to exercise her undoubted gift for emotional acting. Sydney Herbert, William H. Powell, Ian MacLaren, Rose Coghlan, Otto Kruger and Gustav von Seyffertitz do some splendid acting.

COSMOPOLITAN FILM AT PARK

BOBBED HAIR GIRL HELD IN ROBBERY

Springfield, April 14.—A bobbed hair girl, 21 years old, believed to have been the companion of an unidentified man who held up the manager of a gas filling station in the heart of the city and escaped with $150, was arrested in a local hotel and is held by the police in the hope of securing information that will lead to the capture of the bandit.

The two are said to have come here from Tennessee, but little information of value has been gleaned from the girl.

ACTRESS TRIED SUICIDE WHEN BEAUTY FLED

Miss Howard, Recovering From Poison Attempt in Hotel, Could Not Get Job

"My beauty is gone, I cannot find work, I have nothing to live for so I may as well die."

This is why Miss Nona Howard, an actress, says she attempted to take her life in a room at the Hotel Majestic, Bowdoin square, by swallowing bichloride of mercury. Miss Howard, who is thirty-seven years old, is recovering at Haymarket Relief Station.

"I came over from New York three days ago," she said. "I tried to find an engagement in the theatres. I was told I was too old."

HOOSIER FILM DELIGHTS AT FENWAY

Henry Hull at His Best in Role of Fighting Schoolmaster

Take a dreamy Illinois rustic background, add to it half a hundred unkempt farmers and so-called "wimmen" of the period, then drop in lots of romance in the shape of a country pedagogue and a comely miss, shake the mixture violently—and lo! you have the elements of "The Hoosier Schoolmaster," showing at the Fenway this week.

The opus, taken from a novel of that name by Edward Eggleston, is a melodrama of what city folks call rustic "bumpkinism," and depicts the vicissitudes of a supposedly effeminate pedagogue who steps into a backwoods town of Tarzanic he-men, and finally triumphs in licking the whole neighborhood and marrying, of course, The Girl.

Henry Hull, as the hero, does a fine piece of acting in his interpretation of Ralph Hartsock, the country pedagogue. Ralph ventures into the sunshine of the mid-Western town, as calm and as peaceful a youth as could be found. In fact, so carefully does he tread, that the he-men in the town naturally prophesied his sudden demise.

But when the big climax—the inevitable mob fight—arrives, the schoolmaster makes a stand and cleans up at least ten men in a row.

Jane Thomas pleases with her role of the beautiful "young girl." Her acting is without a flaw.

Mary Foy as "Old Miss Means," adds real villainy to the piece.

STOMACH UPSET?

Get at the Real Cause—Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That's what thousands of stomach sufferers are doing now. Instead of taking tonics, or trying to patch up a poor digestion, they are attacking the real cause of the ailment—clogged liver and disordered bowels.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets arouse the liver in a soothing, healing way. When the liver and bowels are performing their natural functions, away goes indigestion and stomach troubles.

Have you a bad taste, coated tongue, poor appetite, a lazy, don't-care feeling, no ambition or energy, trouble with undigested foods? Take Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. You will know them by their olive color. They do the work without griping, cramps or pain.

Take one or two at bedtime for quick relief. Eat what you like. 15c and 30c.

When Mother Pays the Bills

by The Veteran Motorist

WHEN my wife first began to drive the car, I told her that I would make her responsible for the whole thing, which included paying the bills out of a definite allowance for upkeep.

Of course, like all fond husbands, I expected that I would have to make up a deficit. But, much to my surprise, after the first few months of experimentation on her part with various gasolines and oils, there was literally nothing for me to pay. In fact, the last two months she has been showing a slight credit balance!

The secret is that mother has kept a comparative record of her upkeep, and she has found that dollar for dollar, gallon for gallon, she gets the maximum of power and efficiency out of Socony Gasoline and Socony Motor Oil.

That's one reason why, to my mind, Socony is the favorite brand of discriminating women drivers, because "when mother pays the bills," there can be no camouflaging the expense.

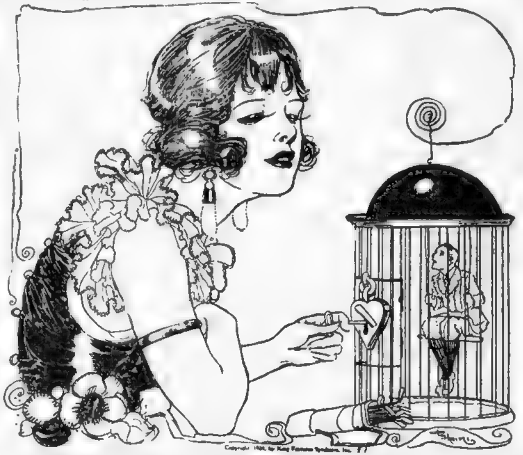
Caught

DRAWN BY POPINI



Copyright, 1924, by King Features Syndicate, Inc.

WHEN the breezes, rippling greening grasses, on a fairway, gently call when the hazards of a golf course seem to stalwart minds to dwindle their Gargantuan proportions to Lilliputian size then it is that the men wander from their companions of Winter and stalk forth to challenge Spring with their golf bags all alone.

She tells herself she doesn't love him, but—"popped on those a bunker can stop him when I can't"—she sets a trap and catches him and locks him in a cage—the padlock is her heart!

"Caught!" he sighs. "Linger there awhile and muse upon the sin of your desertion!" she cries. Then suddenly she wakes to the realization that—with HER heart employed in guarding HIM—she, too, is caught!

And the Spring breezes sing across the fairway—chuckling with Cupid's voice!—POPINI.

A WIFE'S MEDITATIONS

By HELEN ROWLAND

ARE YOU an April Fool?

* * *

So am I—and so is every woman.

* * *

In April a woman does more [illegible] things than in all the rest of the twelve months put together.

* * *

Or she [illegible]

Helen Rowland

[illegible] frock that she will never, never wear!

* * *

Or she mistakes the moonlight in some woman hunter's eyes for the love-light.

* * *

Or she strolls under the stars [illegible] another April Fool, in thin slippers [illegible] catching romance [illegible] pneumonia—and acquiring a sob-complex and a [illegible]

* * *

It's simply that her soul needs [illegible] Spring [illegible] her vanity needs a [illegible] almost anything in [illegible] looks just like FATE to her!

* * *

And as for a MAN—he's every [illegible] Fool in April. The haberdasher's, the florist's the barber's, the jeweler's and the flapper's.

* * *

For once in a year his love of beauty conquers his masculine fear of being laughed at; and he indulges his soul and his color-complex.

* * *

He buys checkered suits, white spats, purple hose, yellow shoes and a varied and gaudy assortment of rainbow hued cravats that he will never have the nerve or courage to wear.

* * *

He strolls along the avenue, glancing into every pair of blue, brown or hazel eyes in search of adventure, romance or trouble.

* * *

Lord pity those who have NEVER been April Fools.

DECEIVING

Mrs. Gayboy—What makes you say that marriage is a mirage of the mind?

Mrs. Newlywed—Because it seems twice as nice as it really is.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. F. X. MAHONEY, Boston Health Commissioner.

WHY is it the average m[illegible]

[illegible] a No[illegible]

Of all the [illegible] ills that human flesh is heir, at least a goodly portion is caused by men and women cramping their feet into shoes that are too small for them.

Dr. Mahoney.

We decry the Chinese custom of binding the feet of women, yet our constant practice is but little different.

How often do you see a charmingly dressed young woman, with a beautiful face and beautifully dressed, walking along the street with a pained, weary look on her face?

In nine cases out of ten that look is due to shoes that are pinching her feet. It is impossible for a person to be normal and happy if the feet ache and pain. Even if the wearer of the tight shoe becomes so used to his misery that he does not think of it, the reaction unconsciously shows in his face.

Men and women should be more careful in purchasing their shoes. They should have their feet accurately measured and then shoes should be purchased sufficiently large to accommodate the feet without pinching.

QUESTIONS ANSWERED

Will you tell me what will help head noises caused by a deficient ear? They almost [illegible] crazy. W. B. J.

Have your ears examined. Possibly [illegible] out of the eustachian tube and help your troubles.

What causes boils and what would you recommend in the way of treatment? —B. A. J.

A boil is a suppurative inflammation of the skin covering a circumscribed [illegible] with the formation of a core of dead tissue. It generally begins [illegible] point of deep [illegible] on which is painful [illegible] white blister. [illegible] This opens and after a few days the core is discharged [illegible] obstinate cases are successfully treated by [illegible]

Just before Christmas I caught a cold in my chest which developed into a bad cough. I let it go for a month, then I went to my family doctor and was examined by him. He prescribed for me without telling me what the trouble was. Later I was examined by another doctor who gave me to understand without telling me in so many words that I was tubercular. I have never had any night sweats and raise very little. Today for the first time I noticed I raised blood. When I breathe lately I notice a dull pain in my chest, first on one side and next day on the other. At night I cough the most. I gained a few pounds since I [illegible] work. Miss B. B.

[illegible] physical examination [illegible] outpatient department of the [illegible] Hospital [illegible] An X-ray of the chest [illegible] undoubtedly be [illegible] reaching a conclusion.

Please name me a good throat specialist and where [illegible] I developed a cold some few months ago which is now in the [illegible] stage and I believe I have [illegible] a ton of that heavy yellow or green [illegible] As I fear an abscess forming I want to go to a good throat specialist. I. J.

[illegible] that you ask your own physician [illegible] throat [illegible] to do this, consult the chairman of the [illegible] board of health of Revere [illegible] of these directions, you [illegible] call Congress [illegible] and make inquiry.

YOUR BEAUTY

GUARD YOUR BEAUTY WISELY THIS VARIABLE WEATHER

By Maria Jeritza

Famous Prima Donna of the Metropolitan Opera and One of the Most Beautiful Women of the Day

A[illegible]

[illegible] few days [illegible] you read these [illegible] weather may [illegible] But from all the evidence, it is easy to deduce the fact that Spring is changeable. In fact, [illegible] season of the year when [illegible] more needed by the woman who strives to guard her beauty.

In the morning [illegible] is so bright and warm [illegible] tempted to leave off your heavy topcoat. But if you do [illegible] chances are you will regret at the end of the day shivering in your pretty Spring clothes. And shivering [illegible] symptoms, is not a friend of beauty.

So be conservative in discarding your heavy garments of Winter. You are entitled to comfort. It is only when the body is perfectly comfortable that one forgets it utterly and so attains poise. But in planning for comfort it is wise to look ahead a little.

To wear a lightweight suit beneath your coat is wise these raw Spring days. Then should the thermometer suddenly rise while you are [illegible] coat off, or [illegible] your [illegible] jacket [illegible] comfort in the light overblouse you wear with it.

Always keep near at hand the sweater or [illegible] will mean comfort if [illegible] turned off and the weather unexpectedly turns cold—an unfortunate combination of circumstances that sometimes occurs [illegible]

[illegible] a bountiful [illegible] and [illegible] pastry [illegible] said to [illegible] lesser [illegible]

Make a [illegible] of [illegible] Hearts of lettuce, endive, romaine, celery, watercress are only a few that will satisfy your natural Spring appetite for something dainty and "different."

Keep outdoors. If you have the opportunity to ride on horseback every day you will find it enhancing at this season. And walk. You can at least walk part way downtown instead of riding. Go prepared for wind, rain or sunshine.

Rain in your face, be sure, will prove a beauty lotion. Wind will blow roses into your cheeks. Sunshine will lend a new sparkle to your eyes and a glint to your hair.

Every night, if your complexion calls for it—otherwise once or twice a week—you might try this lotion for bleaching and softening the skin. There is none better for the purpose.

Mix a teaspoonful of fresh lemon juice with a teaspoonful of glycerine. Apply the mixture to your face, arms and hands. Rub it in with a gentle upward, circular movement of your finger tips. Apply it only when your skin is perfectly clean and not greasy with cold cream. Just before retiring is the best time, because the glycerine will cling tenaciously.

By taking these simple, easy precautions you will be well protected and can freely enjoy all the good gifts Spring brings your beauty.

PARIS SENDS NEW IDEAS

Paris, France. A smart coat from Paul Caret's Spring collection is shown on the left. Dull, black satin is cut on conventional straight lines which give a slim silhouette to even a stout [illegible] figure. The arrangement of the garment at the neck is interesting: there are two [illegible], as might be expected, but no collar. Instead, a scarf of the satin, tied Ascot fashion, replaces it, and the result is amazingly smart and original. A carved wooden button fastens the coat at the left side. Beneath a cut-out design on the sleeves and the lower part of the garment is seen the lining of light brown crepe. As a suggestion for accessories to complete this costume, a Milan straw hat in the same shade of light brown and soft suede gloves to match may be worn.

Another black silk coat is sketched on the right, a model from [illegible]. In this instance [illegible] silk-faille, instead of satin, is the fabric. The wrap is worn loosely hanging open, for there are no fastenings, and as it swings back one sees that there is a band of ermine inside the coat, running horizontally, several inches above the lower edge. A soft, puffed collar of this fur, and narrow bands on the sleeves are the only other touches of white.

HER NAME WAS MUD

A MUDDY complexion she had. Before she used a certain clay pack. Blue gray, made of finest balsams, combined with Fuller's earth, which clears the complexion and gives it color. Use before going to a dance and you'll have lovely pink cheeks all evening. Removes blackheads, pimples, and lines, as well as excess oiliness. Lifts up and strengthens sagging muscles. Tube, or jar $1.50. Apply 2 or 3 times a week. A trial set consisting of tube of clay, powder, cold and vanishing creams, is 50 cents. Enough for 3 or 4 treatments.

A DROP of crystal-clear liquid ensures daintiness. Stops and deodorizes perspiration. Will not injure sheer fabrics nor delicate skin. 50 cents, pretty bottle.

A VEGETABLE LOTION removes yellowness from white or gray hair, and increases its brilliance. 75 cents. A pure shampoo.

ANTISEPTIC is a pure tar shampoo which makes a fine lather. Removes dust, oil and dandruff. 40 cents. Refreshing.

TO GROW HAIR use a tonic made of 3 times refined crude oil. 75 cents. Liquid. Greaseless. Apply at night with absorbent cotton.

A TAWNY or withered skin is benefited by a special cream at night. 75 cents a tube. Whitens the skin, and removes moth patches, freckles, blotches and pimples. A fine base for powder, too. Smooth, satiny.

FOR AN OILY SKIN is a lotion made of fresh lemon juice. No extract is used. Pure. Refreshing. Cleanses, bleaches, softens. Men like it, too.

ONE FIRM MAKES a delightfully perfumed soap, gardenia odor. 35 cents a cake. Lovely for guests.

A SPECIAL CUTICLE ASTRINGENT should be used at night. $1.00. Good for enlarged pores. Gives the face a firm, rounded contour. Tightens the cuticle.

A TALCUM POWDER which deodorizes and absorbs perspiration, is 85 cents a bottle. Cool. Sweet. Apply after bathing.

AT NIGHT use a liquid powder. White, flesh, rachel. Does not come off on a man's arm, when dancing. 75 cents. Fine, smooth. Takes off shine. Sticks.

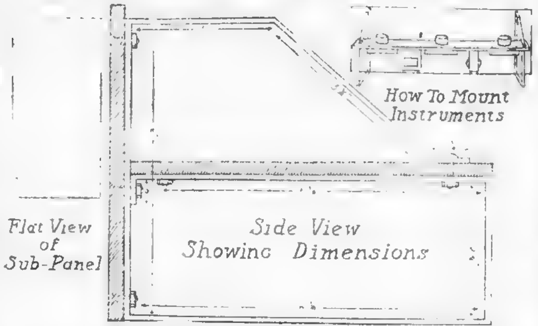
TO MAKE YOUR SET RUGGED



SUB-PANEL FOR INSTRUMENT MOUNTING

Better and more substantial sets are made by mounting most of the parts on a sub-panel instead of attempting to mount them all on the front panel. The diagram shows how to support the sub-panel. By carrying the leads through the sub-panel, the wiring is kept neater and simpler and individual leads kept shorter. There are several other handy kinks described in the accompanying article.

[illegible] ...the sub-panel and fasten with a screw and nut. The transformers may be mounted on the bottom of the sub-panel [illegible] the front panel in the usual place.

All wiring may now be done below the sub-panel except to the condensers.

Mounting of Jacks

New York Stock Market Movements Narrow with Studebaker Starting Up

FORBES' VIEWS ON FINANCE

—By B. C. Forbes—

(Mr. Forbes will be in Boston from April 21 until April 26. During that time he will fill several speaking engagements and come in close contact with New England problems of business and finances.)

I feel optimistic.

I believe the turning point has come in Europe and that this tremendously important development will shortly be widely recognized.

I believe that the mud-slinging at Washington has reached and passed its height, and that it will hereafter subside as a disturbing influence on business.

I believe that the outcome of the Presidential election will become less uncertain rather than more uncertain as the weeks pass.

While no man can ever pretend to be able to foretell stock market movements, it looks to me as if professional attacks upon quotations have been carried too far and that conditions warrant improvement in prices rather than further declines.

* * *

Buying of goods of all kinds has been carried on so strictly from hand-to-mouth that should sentiment become more hopeful, the probability is that orders would be placed hurriedly and in distinctly larger volume. This I regard as slightly more than a possible development.

In this connection it may or may not be significant that the proportion of commodity declines to advances during the last two weeks has shown distinct modification.

* * *

The arrival of good weather is calculated to serve as a tonic to the automobile industry, which has been affected by the late Spring, thus creating more or less misgiving.

Good weather will also stimulate the building industry.

It will benefit cotton operations in the South and agriculture in general.

It will quicken buying of clothing, furnishings, etc., in retail stores.

It will open and widen many channels of employment.

Favorable tax legislation is within sight.

Unquestionably President Coolidge's stern rebuke to Senators who have been indulging in irresponsible tactics will be widely endorsed by the public and thus have a salutary effect upon Congress. When a Senator goes so far as to engage, at his own expense, a "prosecutor" to attack viciously a Cabinet officer of the caliber and character of Andrew W. Mellon, thereby throwing the country into the danger of losing the services of the ablest Treasury Secretary the United States has had since Alexander Hamilton, then it plainly was time for the Chief Executive to call a halt. As between Mellon and the muckrakers, the public will find no difficulty in choosing.

From now on, therefore, Washington is likely to exercise less disturbing influence upon business and employment.

* * *

The principal question now before the world is, will Germany accept the Dawes plan?

In my humble opinion Germany, after inducing the reparations commission to fix a limit to the total amount ultimately to be paid, and perhaps other modifications, will accept the plan.

Since Germany well understands that no international financial assistance will be forthcoming unless she finally accepts the plan and undertakes to live up to it loyally and energetically, there is ground for hoping and believing that the whole matter will shortly be settled harmoniously.

* * *

If this happens and it has more than an even chance of happening—what will the effect be in the United States, in Europe and throughout the world?

My ideas on this subject are so pronounced that I hesitate to outline them.

AGGIE PFD. IS SOLD OFF MORE THAN A POINT

Early New York stock market price movements were generally narrow today, with Studebaker starting up a point. Woolworth added 2⅛ to its rally.

In second hour South Porto Rico Sugar was off 1. Baldwin and Stewart-Warner Speedometer were off 3 to fresh 1924 bottoms. Yellow Cab of New York, Houston Oil and Cosden dropped 2. Pacific oil was dropped over 2.

At the same time there were point or more recessions for American Agricultural Chemical pfd., American Can, Crucible, Woolen, Gulf States Steel, Producers & Refiners, Mack, Cuba Cane Sugar pfd., Republic Steel, Willys-Overland pfd. and Lima Loco.

Davison Chemical was up over a point, then off over a point to a new 1924 low.

Mathieson Alkali was off over a point at another low for the year.

Hornblower & Weeks' market opinion today said: "A week of momentous domestic and international political events finds speculative opinion depressed. In the circumstances, aggressive buying is very unlikely. Therefore, powerful market operators and traders bearishly inclined may be expected to press their advantage to the fullest extent. We look for new low prices this week, not minding an attempted rally after early weakness today."

In trading on the Boston Stock Exchange American Telephone and Mohawk were slightly higher. Warren Brothers and New England Telephone sold unchanged.

Demand sterling started at $4.33½, French francs at .0605, lire at .044 and the Canadian dollar at .9329.

Wall St. Gossip

YOUNGSTOWN steel mills are curtailing.

CHANDLER is expected to show net for first six months of 1924 that will cover year's dividend payments.

STEEL common has been showing A1 resistance in the slumps of the past few days.

WEEK-END bear raiding has become a regular thing.

WHILE Frisco preferred dividend may not come as soon as Wabash preferred A, there is said to be best sort of buying of Frisco common.

EXPOSITION Cotton Mills of Atlanta, in which Consolidated Textile Corporation has large interest, will gradually curtail night work.

J. KAYSER & CO., silks, has drastically curtailed at its principal plant in Brooklyn.

Finnigan, Worcester; Joseph A. Frohock, Melrose; Charles L. Riley, Worcester; Eugene H. Walker, Melrose; Frank M. Wright, Brookline.

LEHIGH VALLEY OUT OF RED INK COLUMN

Lehigh Valley Railroad Company for 1923 shows net income of $8,586,612 after charges and taxes, equivalent, after allowing for preferred dividends, to $7.08 a share (par $50) earned on $60,501,100 common outstanding. This compares with deficit of $1,991,246 in 1922.

SPRINGFIELD AFTER FRESH FINANCING

Springfield will receive bids until April 23 for bonds aggregating $1,200,000, of which $900,000 is for North End Bridge 4½ per cent bonds, maturing 1925 to 1944 inclusive, and $300,000 4 per cent water bonds maturing 1925 to 1954 inclusive. All these bonds are dated May 1.

FALL RIVER BOND SALE WITHDRAWN

Fall River has withdrawn sale of $30,000 school bonds, bids for which were to be received until April 15. Bids, however, will be received on that day for the $552,000 school bonds maturing 1924 to 1944 inclusive. Bidder to name rate of interest.

DIVIDEND RAISED BY SOUTHERN RAIL

Vicksburg, Shreveport & Pacific declared regular semi-annual dividend of 2½ per cent. on preferred and a dividend for 1923 of 4 per cent. on the common, payable April 16 to stock of record April 4. For 1922 the common dividend was 2½ per cent.

MARCH COTTON CONSUMPTION OFF

Cotton consumed during March amounted to 483,928 bales of lint and 41,030 of linters, compared with 507,876 of lint and 41,691 of linters in February this year and 624,264 of lint and 54,509 of linters in March last year, the Census Bureau announces.

HOOD RUBBER CO. declared quarterly dividend of $1.75 on preferred, payable May 1, stock of record April 21.

ONTARIO MINING PROMOTIONS HIT

Ontario Legislature will bring up a "blue sky" law shortly, provisions of which include licensing of all brokerage houses and stock salesmen and compulsory differentiation between treasury and vendor stock by means of different colored certificates. Latter is aimed particularly at mining promotions, and there is likely to be some modification.

GENERAL ELECTRIC ORDERS OFF 8 P. C.

Orders received by the General Electric Co. for the three months ending March 31 total $73,487,903. This is a decrease of 8 per cent. from the first quarter of 1923, when orders totaled $80,010,045.

TRAVEL BRIEFS

NATIONAL AND INTERNATIONAL

By BOBBIE SHAFTOE

IT'S CHERRY BLOSSOM TIME IN WASHINGTON.

Potomac Park, in Washington, is one of the most beautiful spots, not only in this country but in the whole world.

It is an immense tract of land, skirting the shores of the tidal basin, containing many of the show places of Washington, and in the Springtime is bordered by its crowning glory—the Japanese cherry blossoms. The blossoms are in bloom for two weeks—from April 15 to April 29.

Thousands are taking advantage of the special spring tour rates offered by the Coupitts and McCready Tourist Companies and the Pennsylvania and Baltimore & Ohio Railroads.

The Baltimore & Ohio Railway, by the way, publishers of the most beautiful boks we have ever seen on Washington.

It may be had by writing the New England Passenger Representative W. F. Williams, Baltimore & Ohio Rwy., Old South Bldg., Boston.

The special spring rates for a round trip to Washington, via the Fall River Line, is only $21.70. These excursions leave Boston Friday nights. All expense tours of a week or more run from $47 up. Side trips to Atlantic City and Philadelphia add to the interest and enjoyment of these Spring tours.

TRAVEL IN MEXICO SAFE AND CONVENIENT.

The recent appointment of C. B. Warren as Ambassador to Mexico, following closely on President Obregon's signal success in enforcement of law and order, forecasts a new and permanent era of peace and prosperity in that interesting country, and the resumption of most cordial relations with the United States.

Travel in Mexico, for some time past, has been safe, comfortable and convenient. The train service is excellent, and good hotels are found in all important cities. English-speaking representatives are located in many places and everything possible for the convenience and welfare of the tourist is done by the Mexican Railway administration.

The Rock Island lines have just issued an attractive folder or booklet descriptive of Mexico. The author resided in that country for years, and touches on present day conditions authoritatively.

Copies of this publication are available to anyone interested or contemplating a trip to Mexico upon application to L. M. Allen, Vice-Pres. & P. T. M., Rock Island Lines, Chicago, Ill.

"IN THE MAINE WOODS—1924"

Recreation seekers, whether they be fishermen, hunters—camera and otherwise—campers, hikers, canoeing enthusiasts and all lovers of the great outdoors, can scarcely take up "In the Maine Woods, 1924" without feeling a longing for the easily accessible glories of the wilds, deep in the woods of Maine.

Every page of the magazine is filled with stories and illustrations and all conceivable information setting forth the enticements of the best fishing regions and the finest vacation sections.

"In the Maine Woods, 1924" will be mailed on application to C. M. Houghton, G. P. A., Bangor & Aroostook R. R., Bangor, Maine, for ten cents; its cost is many times the price.

THE CALL OF THE MOUNTAINS

Summer tourists en route to California or the Pacific North West should put Glacier National Park down as the one thing they must not miss. There are no "keep off the grass" signs in Glacier Park.

It is the wildest part of America and undoubtedly the most magnificent.

Seeing Glacier is as easy or as strenuous as you care to make it. The motor bus leaves you at many Glacier Hotel on McDermott Lake, and you may spend a week or a few weeks at the hotel and without staying a night away from its comforts may see much of Glacier.

Or you may take in any of the one to seven trips that are available from the hotel, ranging from $15 to $66, including auto fare, launch fare and saddle horses. Glacier Park Hotel is unique.

It is fashioned out of huge fir trees and immense cedars, many of them five feet in diameter and forty-five feet high—trees from 500 to 800 years old.

What IS an Automobile?

It Is MANY Things, and All of Them YOU Need

Copyright, 1924, Star Co.

This is the day of the automobile—the flying machine, as everybody's vehicle, just in sight, is not here yet.

Just now it is the automobile, and it is worthwhile to ask and answer this question:

What is an automobile?

First of all, the automobile is a TIME-SAVER. It adds years to the life of every busy man, because it AVOIDS WASTE OF TIME IN SLOW MOVEMENT.

The automobile is a LIBERATOR OF MEN because it frees them from the tyranny of gravitation's law—until there came the machine conquering that law.

Think how slowly men crept from place to place only yesterday. From the farm to the village, from the home to the church or theatre, they jogged at the slow pace of horse or street car.

W. H. Vanderbilt's Maud S., able to trot a mile in a little more than two minutes, was to him worth more than $100,000, although she would not continue her fast trot for more than three minutes at a time.

Now, for a few hundred dollars—or a few thousand, if you prefer it—you may buy a car that will carry your whole family a mile for every minute and a half—and keep it up all day long without whip or urging.

All the money of Vanderbilt would not give him the luxury, pleasure and SAVING OF TIME that the automobile maker's genius now offers to every one.

The automobile is the great modern PHYSICIAN. It provides fresh air and health for millions, old and young. And it is the physician that Macbeth demanded in vain. It can "minister to a mind diseased." The automobile cures with happiness, cheerfulness. Flying through the air and sunshine, it sweeps away fatigue, boredom. The automobile is the great happiness cure—and there is none other to equal it.

The automobile is the greatest of all FAMILY TIES.

It is to the family what reinforcement of steel is to concrete.

The automobile KEEPS THE FAMILY TOGETHER IN ITS PLEASURES.

And in doing so it is the world's greatest blessing.

With the automobile the old and the very young are not LEFT AT HOME, as they were, of necessity, in days before the motor came. The road is no longer "too long" or "too rough" for the grandmother or the baby. All can go TOGETHER, ENJOY HAPPINESS TOGETHER.

And that is the greatest blessing brought by the automobile.

Other Teapot Domes

Billy Sunday and Various Matters

Copyright, 1924, Star Co.

A New York divine refers to Washington as a terrible place for sinful practices. It wouldn't be anything to worry about if conditions at Washington were different from the ordinary run of American politics, but they are not. Every State capital and almost every county seat in the country has its own little Teapot Dome.

For our people to manifest surprise at anything crooked in politics is as great an affectation as if his Satanic Majesty should suddenly sniff and grow excited over the aroma of sulphur.

And those politicians whose sole concern is to use the present investigations for partisan rather than national good are the affinities of the very crooks they claim to despise.

Billy Sunday thinks the modernists ought to be put out of the church because they have gone back on hell. This is the least of their offences. Hell doesn't seem to have many friends any more in any of the churches.

President Coolidge pleases friends of conservation by dismissing Director of Reclamation Davis and appointing Elwood Mead, a noted reclamation engineer of California. As this appointment reverses the policy of Secretary Work, the latter's resignation from the Cabinet is looked for.

Senator Borah comes nearer speaking for the masses of his party when he welcomes any investigation that exposes rottenness than Senator Pepper does when he makes fun of such investigation.

And as Borah says, we will have crooked influence at Washington so long as both parties take crooked money for campaign purposes. This custom will end only when the people themselves care enough about their government to take charge of both old parties and drive the crooks out.

Unless the people are willing to pay as much attention to their government as they do to poker and golf, they cannot complain if Washington becomes the Mecca of thieves.

The professional "Americanizers" should turn aside from the dangers of foreign immigration long enough to devise a machine to keep the American people awake.

No hunter has ever been able to take an adult gorilla alive, owing to his great power and ferocity, but a young gorilla is brought to this country. Like other young ones that have been brought in, this one will probably die a result of home-sickness and a change of diet.

The Hitching Post

There is a story going about in Washington that one man stepped up to another and said:

"I am looking for President Coolidge."

"I saw him ten minutes ago standing in front of the White House by a hitching post."

"Well, either one would be all right to tie to, but what does he look like?"

"Like most of the neighbors. Just step up to the pair of them and ask for an opinion on the oil scandal. Whichever one answers will be the hitching post."

LISTEN, WORLD! -:- By ELSIE ROBINSON

SHE WANTS TO HURT BECAUSE SHE'S HURT HERSELF.

I WANT to tell you a funny thing about my job, Pal. Maybe it will give you a useful slant on your own job. Every day I receive dozens of letters. These letters come from all sorts of people, in all sorts of places—from as wide a radius as newspapers cover. The letters are usually long. It has taken time to write them and money to stamp them. Now, you would naturally suppose that such letters from total stranger to total stranger would at least denote a friendly interest. If so, you would suppose wrong.

A good percentage of these letters are written for the sole purpose of covering large pages with the verbal sweat of honest hate. Never has the English language worked harder than it does in trying to tell me how poorly those writers think of me. They seldom quote me. They are far too busy even to read me. They simply roll up their sleeves and proceed to give me the panning of my life.

At first those letters made me very angry. They were so unjust. They deliberately distorted my words and motives. They brought the most vicious and baseless accusations against me. I was amazed—enraged—disgusted. I threw these effusions in the waste basket and wondered why the sunny world was filled with such sour, squirmy things.

Then one day I began to wonder if there wasn't a reason for it all. I wasn't the only writer thus attacked. All my newspaper friends received similar outbursts. Why was it? Why did total strangers waste time and money in such unprovoked, pointless assaults? I decided to try an experiment. Instead of destroying these letters or answering them with bitter sarcasm, I did something else. I put aside the thoughts of the peevishness, which had inspired the letters, and I wrote instead to the loneliness and discontent which I felt sure lay behind them.

It wasn't easy to do. I was pretty darn mad, Pal. But I was also curious. And I had a hunch. So I wrote, not as to someone who had troubled me, but as to someone who was in trouble. And I sent those letters off to the river bottoms of the Mississippi, to the swamps of Florida, to the lonely prairies of the Dakotas, to the bleak hill farms of Vermont, to the deserts of Nevada and the sad, blind alleys of New York—to all places where life is denied the joy and success and comradeship it needs.

And then a most amazing thing happened. Back came the answers to me. Sometimes they were even more bitter than the original letters. But nearly always they were a cry for understanding! Those people HAD been lonely and discouraged, just as I thought they were! They had struck out, not at me personally, but at the unfair fortune which they thought was mine. They did not see a tired woman working for her living, behind the words I wrote. They saw somebody with the money they lacked, with freedom (so they thought) from crying babies and boiling stews and pressing debts and maddening obscurity. They resented it all—particularly the obscurity, and being so resentful they struck out, just as I would have struck out had I been in their shoes.

I'VE LEARNED MORE ABOUT PEOPLE FROM THE LETTERS THEY'VE WRITTEN TO HURT ME, PAL, THAN IN ANY OTHER WAY.

And I've learned more about myself. We're all hurting people—just because we're hurt ourselves. We're all suspecting and criticising and attacking other people without taking the pains to find if there is any basis for our hate. Life has hurt us—so we want to hurt back. We're doing this as individuals, as classes, as nations. Yet, as the warmth of one understanding handclasp, all our animosity vanishes like a foul mist and we see each other face to face—FRIENDS.

I do believe that friendliness is the greatest force on earth. You can give wisdom or money or opportunity and reap only bitterness in return. But give yourself in friendliness and the soul of humanity lies naked to your touch.

Appeal by "Sister"

Editor Helping Hand:

Will you please ask some of the rich people who give to the poor people if they would give us some nice things to wear. My baby is one year old and has no coat to go out in. My Daddy needs a suit badly. He is short and fat, size 40 or 42, and his pants are all patched. The girls are four in the family, the baby one, the next is five, the next is eight and I am ten years old and in the fourth grade. Fred is fifteen his next birthday. I will be glad if you answer my letter. SISTER.

Dresses and Patchwork

Editor Helping Hand:

I have on hand quite a number of pieces suitable for patchwork. I also have a few light dresses, size 38. Please send me the address of some one in need of these articles.

Thank you. You have been sent the address of Mrs. M. H. 7 who asks for patchwork pieces and of Mrs. E. R. who wears size 36.

Girl Who Never Grew

Editor Helping Hand:

I have spine trouble and cannot walk very good. My father is dead. My mother works every day. I am twelve years old but never grew so I am size 6. I have four brothers 4, 10, 14 and 15½. My mother is size 40. Will some kind people give me some clothes so I can go to church on Easter. I need everything. I make pretty things out of cloth to earn money to help support the home. If someone will give me some pieces I will thank you.

DR. FRANK CRANE ON COOLIDGE AND HIS EYES

By DR. FRANK CRANE

EVERY one of the more than one hundred million people of the United States is interested in Calvin Coolidge.

Because he is President. And the President of the United States has probably more actual power than any man in the world.

By our peculiar form of government he is one-third. He alone is the Executive, while both the Legislative and Judiciary are composed of groups.

Coolidge came to the Presidency by the act of Destiny, through the death of Harding, and not by the direct franchise of the people; this renders his problem very delicate. He has to form policies of his own, yet at the same time avoid rupture with the policies of his predecessor. Yet to do this very thing he is well qualified.

The accent of his name is very properly placed on the first syllable. The temperature of his heart is known, probably, to his intimates, but the general public will never know the temperature of his head, because there isn't any.

His mind is singularly free from any sort of heat, whether fanaticism, superstition or hurry.

He is not large-boned, but rather a trim-looking man, smooth-faced, and of the blond or sandy type.

He looks like New England. And he probably is like New England.

He impresses one as being in the pink of physical perfection. As far as the records go, he is doubtless physically the healthiest man that ever assumed this job.

His most outstanding feature is his eye. His eyes are blue, and he carries them wide open. He has what George Meredith would call "a public eye."

When you are in conversation with company you find some of the folks are eager to talk, some talk all the time, some anxiously await an opportunity to butt in, and some never talk at all unless they have to. Coolidge belongs to the last class. He seemed to me to be the sort of man that has made a practice all his life of waiting till other people got through giving their opinions. It is a good trick, for if one does this his remarks usually carry great weight.

Coolidge impresses me as very democratic, and singularly free from the sort of foolishness that seems to grow on most public men. He is kindly in his manner, gentle in his speech, pleasing in his appearance, but gives one the impression that once he has made up his mind it would be just as well not to waste any time trying to get him to change it.

As to the type of man he is, I should say that he is the lawyer kind of man. He does not impress you as a ponderous judge, an imposing statesman, a pompous general or a silver-tongued orator. He looks and acts like a shrewdly balanced, kindly but determined attorney.

I have known several Presidents, and the one Coolidge most resembles is General Grant.

I think if he can safely escape the wild beasts that lurk in the jungle of political parties—that is, if he determines to be President of the United States rather than leader of the Republican party—he will make a very useful and capable President.

GARRETT P. SERVISS ON FUNDAMENTALISM

By Garrett P. Serviss.

Famous Astronomer and Writer on Scientific Topics of Popular Interest.

"I have read Darwin's 'Origin of Species' and 'Descent of Man,' analytically, and they have accentuated rather than diminished my disbelief in the theory of evolution. The gist of his argument is that because forms of life 'have much in common,' ergo they have a common origin, which strikes me as ridiculous, for it overlooks the fact that nature works along approved lines. I conclude that Darwin, like so many writers, wrote himself into self-delusion and self-conviction. Your own recent article on the stated evolution of birds from snakes reflects this tendency, starting with assumptions and ending with certainties. If you believe, as geologists contend, that the earth was originally a molten mass, and if it is your opinion, as biology would seem to indicate, that life must come from life, then, question: What is your theory as to the manner in which life first came to this planet after it cooled off and whence came it? INQUIRER.

AS to the last question I have no theory.

It is well in discussions of this kind to be a little regardful of accuracy. I did not, in the article referred to, affirm, by either statement or quotation, that birds were evolved from snakes. I said that birds were evolved from reptiles. Of course snakes constitute an order in the class of reptiles, but that is not to say that they are in the line of development from the reptilian to the bird form. One might guess that the word "snakes" was chosen for use in the misquotation in order that its concomitants might excite a greater degree of horror in certain minds at the idea of evolution. The earliest birds known were animals of the reptilian class, but having wings and beak-like jaws furnished with comical teeth set in sockets. They had long, reptilian tails.

Other forms of reptilian birds have been found embedded in the rock strata. To say then, as "Inquirer" does, that the statement of the evolution of the birds "starts with assumptions and ends with certainties," is another misrepresentation absolutely contrary to the truth.

It is inadvisable for those who persist in trying to arrest the progress of science by confronting it with asserted contradictions in the scriptures to introduce too freely and carelessly the question of "assumptions," for it maye be demanded of them to prove that they are not themselves standing on a ground of mere assumption. Is there any verification to be found for the assertion that the story of creation told in Genesis is God's own special account, inspired by Him into the pen or pens of the unknown writer or writers and certified by Him to be the sole and literal truth?

On the other hand, without questioning the authority of Genesis, is it certain that that book itself does not affirm the doctrine of evolution? I have twice heretofore pointed to statements in the opening chapter of Genesis which plainly state that God "causeth the earth" and the "waters" to "bring forth" the various forms of life. Let anybody read these passages carefully, observing how they are correlated with statements about God's "creating" the same living things, and satisfy himself whether the real meaning is not that God set a chain of causes at work in the earth and the waters of the earth which resulted in the gradual development of the many forms of vegetable and animal life.

"And God said, Let the earth bring forth the living creature after his kind, cattle, and creeping thing, and beast of the earth after his kind; and it was so."

What is all that other than a succinct statement of the underlying principle of the evolutionary doctrine? Science does not set out to eliminate God; it only endeavors to discover, as far as it can, how His great work of bringing into being the earth and its life was accomplished. God surely is not going to condemn man for doing that, if man is truly made "in the image of God," as the scripture itself affirms.

It is not religion—i. e., belief and trust in God—that opposes science, but it is theology. The world moves and man rises, but the wheels of the old theological cart sticks fast in their own ruts.
